

THE MARTIN ST. senior public school boasts a large general purpose room outfitted for basketball and stage presentations, shown at left. On the right, Tom Wills, Karen Trimble, and Jenny Massee are three of the school's senior students, shown with an indoor-outdoor planter box that is a feature of the entranceway to the general purpose room. Below, instructor Robert McCaw is shown with boys in the industrial arts room and home economics teacher Mrs. G. MacEachern instructs girls in sewing during a lesson in the home economics room. The school also houses 10 regular classrooms plus the board administration offices. (Staff Photos)
