Name five P.C. delegates to leadership convention

A small group of Halton Conservatives gathered at Milton District High school Monday evening to organize the new Federal Riding of Halton East and to name delegates to the Leadership Convention to be held in Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, in September. The meeting was followed by entertainment.

Five delegates and five alternates were named to vote at the convention. According to the Conservative constitution the five man delegation must have three senior men, one Young Progressive Conservative under 30 years of age and one woman.

Mrs. Barbara Cooper of Oakville was named as the woman delegate, and Charlie Martin of Milton; was named the Y.P.C. The three senior men are Rev. Andy McKenzie of Acton, Doug Latimer of Georgetown provincial president of the Halton East Conservative Party and Roy Brown of Erin.

The alternate delegates follow the same structural breakdown. Mrs. Francis Ritchie of Oakville was named the woman candidate, William Sargeant Jr. of Oakville was named Y.P.C. and Robert Reed of Milton, Norman Nixon of Erin and John Dolphin of Oakville were named the three senior candidates. There is a registration fee of $25 for delegates and $15 for alternates to the convention.

The new federal riding will consist of five members from Oakville, two from Milton, two from Georgetown and two each from Esquesing, Erin, Erin Township and Acton.

One of the five delegates to the meeting will be named to the policy committee. This committee will discuss policy from Tuesday until Saturday in Toronto prior to the convention.

The meeting adopted the Provincial Constitution as its constitution for the new federal riding with the idea that any changes seen desirable may be made in the future. They also adopted the Provincial executive as the federal executive for the riding. Doug Latimer is the president with Bill Thompson vice president, Bud Nichols secretary and John Dewep treasurer.

The less a fellow knows, the more eager he is to prove it to anybody who will listen.

Child drowns near Norval

North Halton's fourth drowning tragedy struck Sunday when a 17-month-old boy wandered into the rushing Credit River at Norval Sunday and lost his life as the swift current quickly carried him downstream.

Dead is Thomas Marcel Robitaille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Guy Robitaille who live in a trailer at Willow Park on Highway 7 at the west end of the village.

Milton O.P.P. said the boy's mother sent him outside to see his father, who was sitting at the front of the trailer. He apparently walked 34 feet back from the trailer to the river. It was half an hour later when the parents realized he was missing and police and Georgetown Fire Department were called. The firemen found the body half a mile downstream.

Const. J. Feldcamp said the water is only a few feet deep near the trailer, but cascades swiftly to a deep pool a few yards away.

Resuscitation failed to revive the child and he was pronounced dead on arrival at the Georgetown hospital.
