on the USWA Local 4574's "1867" float, complete with farmyard animals. The children on the United Gas float in the fourth picture are Lynn Coulson, Albert Klip, Eileen Kranstz and Robbie Bradbury. And on the right, the crowd lines up for the barbecue served by St. Stephen's Church Sidesmen from Hornby.

Floats, bands, fun highlight Halton Firefighters' gala "Centennial Salute" parade

A CROWD OF THOUSANDS lined Milton's streets for the Saturday parade. Here's part of the downtown crowd watching antique fire-fighting equipment rolling by on the street. The equipment ranged from a hose reel from the 1800's to the modern fire pumps.

TWO ANTIQUE CARS in Saturday's Centennial Salute parade were doing the rounds that day. Bill Pegg and Chuck Saunders of Carlisle brought their 1926 Dodge (left) and 1921 Ford to the parade, after earlier in the day appearing in parades in Hespeler, Galt and Preston.

THE HORNBY ACTIONETTES, one of Halton's busy 4-H Homemaking Clubs, had a float decorated with costumed girls and safety themes in Saturday's parade. Their costumes and "look depicted the "good old days" (Staff Photos)
