Apologizes for "bath"

An apology was offered "to the citizens of Burlington" by Councillor William Green at last week's meeting of Burlington Council. He said he was sorry for a water-throwing in-cident at the previous meeting, when Mayor Lloyd Berryman got a glassful of water in his lap after a spirited argument over rural lot sales.

He also disclaimed there was any conflict of interest, as charged in a Burlington news-paper, over his opposition to the town's proposed by-law that limits the size and shape of rural lot sales.

Meanwhile, the council's building and planning commit-tee has scheduled a meeting in Fairview School Auditorium at Lowville on Thursday, Septem-ber 7 when ratepayers in the north can speak on the propos-ed by-law. The date was chang-ed from an original meeting scheduled August 24.

CURB DEVELOPMENT
 Oakville Planning Board has asked the minister of municip-al affairs to give the town more control over the sale of farm land. At present, farm land can only be sold in 10 acre lots, but planners note a big increase in the sale of 10 acre parcels in the past couple of years. In some cases, whole farms are being bought and divided into 10 acre parcels.

THE BRUCE ST. SCHOOL, Milton's oldest institution of learning, is 110 years old this year but "still going strong" despite its age. Seven rooms here will be welcoming 166 students when schools re-open next week. (Staff Photo)
