WORKMEN GIVE THE NEW WING at Brookville School the finishing touches. Joe Martini, left and John Gemin, both of Guelph, touch up poles outside the building. The $300,000 addition includes six classrooms plus a home economics room and industrial arts room and a library. Superintendent Mike Reidy of Battaglia Construction Company reports the building will be ready when school starts next Tuesday. (Staff Photo)

Reaching capacity

First senior grads among 450 at O.S.D.

Among the 450 students expected to enroll for classes next week at Ontario School for the Deaf, Milton, are the first senior students who will officially "graduate" from the residential school.

Next June, several seniors who began their specialized education at O.S.D. Belleville and transferred to O.S.D. Milton to complete their academic and vocational education, will be leaving school life and heading out into the business world to make a living for themselves.

The 1967-68 term enrolment is an additional 55 students over last year's total of 395. The staff this year will total 295 full time plus several supply staffers and part time employees, superintendent D. E. Kennedy reports.

O.S.D. was designed to accommodate 500 junior and senior students, but facilities are becoming taxed already. The school expects a larger enrolment in the junior school than the facilities can handle — so some juniors will be living in senior residence and some will be attending class in the senior school complex.

The school will operate 27 classes for juniors this year, an increase of two over last year. Among the juniors are 45 beginners, five and six year olds who are just starting life in the school.

Boundaries of the area covered by the school have changed this year. Until now, O.S.D. Milton handled all students living west of Highway 400, while anyone living east of this dividing line attended the Belleville school. But on September 1 the counties of York and Simcoe (excluding Metro Toronto) have been added to the Milton area. Mr. Kennedy said it initially means an addition of 15 or 20 children — some who will transfer from Belleville and some beginners.

The Department of Education now has plans for a third school for the deaf, somewhere in the province. A site has not yet been announced.

O.S.D.'s vocational program for senior students has been expanded this year, with the addition of a second commercial subjects teacher, a second librarian, an extra boys' occupations teacher, additional home economics and industrial arts teachers, and the opening of the cabinet making shop. Mr. Kennedy said "we will be using the complete vocational facilities this year, with the exception of the upholstery shop."

Two other areas of the school are being expanded this fall. The home visiting program — whereby teachers of pre-school deaf and hard-of-hearing children visit the child in his home and conduct group clinics at the school for area children — is growing fast and a third teacher has been added.

The on-the-job training program for seniors is also to be expanded this year and many of the better students will be placed in part-time working assignments in local industries for practical training. Last year just one senior, a welder, worked in a local shop as an experiential and the program was considered a success.

Classes at O.S.D. will start on Thursday, September 7. The students will be arriving to check into residence on Wednesday of next week.

Sunshine is growing

Sunshine School, the North Halton School for mentally retarded children, will grow to about 30 students this fall.

Principal Mrs. R. P. E. Jeffares reports that many are expected when school re-opens next Tuesday morning. There are 16 senior students who will attend classes all day plus 14 juniors, who go for half a day. Among the seniors this year are five five-year-olds just beginning their school life.

Staff besides Mrs. Jeffares includes vice-principal Mrs. Tom Mitchell, morning junior class teacher Mrs. Don Hancock, and afternoon junior teacher Mrs. Ted Dolbel, who is new to the staff this year. Mrs. Sam Sherratt will return as supply teacher.

PLAQUES OF PROVINCIAL EMBLEMS and a centennial symbol decorate the front of the administration building at Ontario School for the Deaf during centennial year. The residential school, a $10,000,000 project of the Ontario Department of Education, will re-open for classes next Thursday with an expected enrolment of 450 junior and senior students.

Women win C.N.E. crafts

The Women's Division of the Canadian National Exhibition reports a number of area women have been successful in the Heritage Crafts competition.

The contest is concerned with the handicrafts and skills of pioneer Canadian women, and includes such things as knitting, crocheting, needle point and sculpture.

Among the Halton winners were Mrs. G. Malmstrom of R. 2 Milton, third in Class 91 Needlework; and Mrs. T. Millar of 5353 Cedar Springs Rd., Campbellville.

Mrs. Millar took four awards in the display, including third in Sewing, Class 102; first in Sewing, Class 103; third in Class 465 (for women 65 or over) and a first in Class 467 of the same senior citizens' division.

I'VE DONE IT

The neighbors forgot to invite the neighborhood scold on their picnic until the very last minute. They sent over a boy to ask her.

"It's too late now!" she snapped. "I've already prayed for rain!"
