Taxpayers in this northern half of the town of Oakville have a chance to protest the Oakville council going ahead with an airport for Omagh. All voters should have a say in this huge expenditure of public funds, and can register their feelings by sending a letter of protest to clerk S. A. Featherstone of the town of Oakville, P.O. Box 310, Oakville before Oct. 15.

Disruption of good agricultural land, inconvenience to the owners, the town is already overburdened by taxes, and there has never been established a basic need for an airport, should be good reasons for protesting. Where it will hurt the most for everyone is the extra burden of taxes. Money talks.

Mrs. Merle Leslie is the secretary at Percy W. Merry School and Miss J. Bauer, a teacher on the staff. Sorry these names were spelled incorrectly in last week's news.

Friends send get well wishes to Mrs. Fred Tuck. She is not enjoying good health.

Mrs. Andrew Trischler is convalescing at her home with a broken arm. We hope she is soon feeling better.

Sorry to learn that Harry Price is a patient in Brampton Hospital. The Price family were former residents of this area.

Birthday greetings to Ricky O'Connell, Duncan Craig, Patricia Schoonheyt and Marilyn Ayres.

people, under the leadership of Pete Yaremko, manager of Elanco Products, were guests of Eli Lilly and Co., Canada Ltd. Purpose of the outing, which also included a bean-roast at Kelso and a tour of Brock Harris' farm on Appleby Line, was to acquaint agricultural druggists with the farm. (Staff Photo)

OMAGH

Urges area residents protest controversial Omagh airport

By Mrs. Cecil Patterson
Belated birthday greetings to David and Danny Eves, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Eves, Fourth Line. They celebrated their third birthday recently.

Communion service was held at Omagh Presbyterian church on Sunday, Oct. 1 with Rev. Stanley Smith, pastor, in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rhude of Weston were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snow and family.

Mrs. George Peacock was a guest of honor on Saturday, Sept. 30 in All Saints' Anglican Church, Erin, at the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Mildred Jackson and Calvin Kelly of Guelph, and later at the reception in the Parish Hall. Also attending were Miss Jacqueline Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Patterson.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van De Boom, celebrating a wedding anniversary this past week.

Belated but sincere good wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howden, a recent bride and groom. The bride was the former Sandra Howard. The young couple will reside in Milton.

The taxpayers of Oakville have one last chance to protest if they so desire on the controversial airport proposed for Omagh. Many feel that Oakville council should give the people a vote on the subject before deciding the matter.

The following reasons are very valid ones for protesting:

1. Basically the need for an airport has never been established by industry.
2. Good farm land is being taken and the owners disrupted in their way of living.
3. Elected officials of Oakville should explain why this airport is such a necessity for the town.
4. Oakville is overburdened with taxes now, money should not be spent on luxuries, and priorities should come first.

Toronto airport is very close and is not costing Oakville taxpayers anything.

Hornby South 4H Home-making Club will hold their first meeting for the new unit "Sleeping Garments", on Saturday, Oct. 7 at 9:15 a.m. in the club room at the home of the leader Mrs. Cecil Patterson, Fourth Line.

Get out your pens and write soon, or it will be too late. The noise or disruption may not annoy or bother any but the local residents, but when it comes to paying for this luxury, the largest inconvenience will be from your and my pocket books. Money must come from somewhere, and lots of it.

Birthday greetings this week to Mrs. Carolyn Bonner, Mrs. Rick Rowan, Wayne Riebot, Mary Ruhl, Susan Lendvay, Frances McKee, Mrs. J. Bentley, Deniz Lawrence, Ian Foster and Helen Rayner.

Miss Judith Linda Bowen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bowen of Scotland, Ontario, became the bride of Leslie Edward Smale, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smale, Kilbride, on Saturday, September 23 at St. Mark's Anglican Church, Scotland. The reception followed in St. Mark's Anglican church hall.

Meteorite?

Another person who spotted the strange object travelling through the sky early in the morning of September 18 was Sam Sammit of R.R. 2, Hornby. His interest in goings-on in the sky is fulfilled by outdoors work, which gives him an above-average opportunity to observe them.

Mr. Sammit suggests the object was a meteorite, which burned itself out in the approximate area of Streetsville.

Urge children say "no" to strangers

Burlington detachment of the OPP will soon launch a new campaign in schools in the Burlington area. Theme of the campaign will be "say no to a stranger". A film will be shown in connection with the theme.

Campaigns of this nature are designed to prevent incidents similar to the Mari- anne Schuett tragedy. Mari- anne disappeared from her Kilbride home last May and has not been found.
