

Open Martin House Thursday

Tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon three men will jointly snip a bright, red ribbon to declare Halton's new 150-bed Martin House home for the aged officially open.

The $1,500,000, three-storey residence for bed care and special care patient of Halton Centennial Manor will also be open for public tours on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, November 11 and 12, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Martin House is named to commemorate the Martin family which founded the mill around which Milton was built, and Dr. C. A. Martin who is a past county warden and municipal official in Milton.

 Ribbon-snipping duties will be shared by Simon Henry Baverstock, the home's eldest resident who is 101 years young; Halton Warden William J. Coulter, Reeve of Nassagaweya; and Noble Drew, director of the homes for the aged branch of the Department of Social and Family Services. The board felt it fitting that a resident, himself older than confederation, should participate in the ceremony to open the building during Canada's centennial year.

Scheduled to speak during the official opening ceremony are Reeve H. H. Hinton of Acton who is the 1967 chairman of the Manor's board of management, Reeve Gordon Gallagher of Burlington, Halton M.P.P. George A. Kerr, Halton's federal M.P., Dr. Harry C. Harley and Reeve H. Merry of Oakville. The keys will be presented by J. Richards, general contractor to architect Donald E. Skinner and in turn to Reeve Gallagher.

Martin House is Halton's second home for the aged. The first which opened in 1952 is known as Pettit House, in memory of the late Mrs. Mary Pettit who served as a Milton and Halton councillor for several years.

Completion of the new home, adjacent to the Pettit House on Ontario St. S. in Milton, was a controversial issue. Several construction strikes held up its progress and it was a year late in opening when the first residents moved in on April 18 of this year.

The first to arrive transferred from Pettit House, and their rooms in the older building were quickly taken by those on the large waiting list

No Vote

There won't be any election for councillors or school board trustees in Nassagaweya Township this December. The present council and school board were elected in 1966 for a two year term.

TOUR METER PLANT

The Toronto plant of Neptune Meters was toured Wednesday of last week by Milton Councillors Charles Fay, Gordon Krantz and Brian Best, deputy-reeve Charles Menefy and work superintendent Bruce McKerr. Council was seeking information on meters in preparation for installation of meters in town in the near future. The company treated the guests to a dinner at the Constellation Hotel following the tour.

"No Hunting" signs have been selling well recently, since the open deer season was announced. Many farmers posted their lands.
