The above subject has been a live issue for some years, but so far results have been practically nil. Like Mark Twain said about the weather, everybody complains but nobody does anything.

There is an old saying, if you can't beat them, join them. So let us give serious consideration to amalgamation. We have all seen the vast industrial expansion to the south, which will be eventually forced northward by rising costs. I grant you that our first procedure as a town should be to install water meters and so accumulate water reserves to be able to attract industry.

There is a time for action and that time is NOW, otherwise we are going to be stuck with a council of somnolent Rip Van Winkles who are going to wake up in about 20 years to the fact that the expansion has passed us by. Thanking you for the publication, I remain, > Yours truly, Frank H. Hadley, 121 Mill St., Milton.

-Whoops! In last week's Champion, a mistake was noted in the Ash news correspondence. "Gill" Taylor should have read "Jill" Taylor. Our apologies to Miss Taylor, who won an M. M. Robinson staff scholarship for the highest standing for a student attending Ryerson Institute.
