

Scout jamboree — fun and frolic

ORDERS FOR NEXT WEEK'S

of The Canadian Champion, to be mailed to home addresses anywhere in the world, may be ordered at the Jamboree Canteen.

JAMBOREE . . . the word sparks a thrill in the heart of any boy Scout and this week's first Ontario Jamboree at Kelso is living up to all expectations. Pictured on these pages are just a few of the highlights and sidelights of a busy seven days of frolic and fun being enjoyed by 2,254 boys and their leaders and staff. Above in Picture 4 Kenneth Hamilton, Grantley Anglin, Gilbert Bellamy, Levene Smith, Troop Leader Vincent Rose, Bobby Smith and Ralph Hoyte of the Jamaican contingent stand beneath the main gate, an impressive tubular steel design incorporating the Jamboree theme, Adventure in Brotherhood. The accordionist in Picture 5 is Nancy McCaig of Toronto who entertained at Saturday's variety show.

THE RAFTMAN Troop, a group of French-Canadian boys from the Laurentian region, had a real tower for a flagpole. It was made at home and shipped to the Jamboree site at Kelso. Picture 6.

SLOT CARS held the interest of Many Scouts at the Jamboree's Do-It-Den. Tommy Monkhouse of Guelph and John McFadden of Oshawa made friends over a friendly race around the track. Picture 8.

"WE WANT CAROL" shouted the boisterous crowd of over 2,000 Scouts at Saturday's variety show, and singer-dancer Carol Wharton of Guelph was the object of their clamorous attention. She belts out a favorite song in Picture 10.

TROOP 389, Nardin Park Methodist Church in Farmington, Mich., brought 56 boys including a 30-piece brass band to the Jamboree, and they entertained Saturday at the amphitheatre. Their tunes were a hit with the crowd. Picture 11.

AGINCOURT SCOUTS climbed high to erect the fancy gateway to their campsite. Picture 12.
