Maple trees big sellers

Maples were the big sellers in the Town of Milton's annual beautification project this year, Town treasurer Mrs. A. Brush reports.

A total of 15 trees have been sold so far, with the municipality and the buyer splitting purchase and planting costs half-way.

Applications for trees on this plan will be accepted up to October 31, but Mrs. Brush notes the volume of forestry has measured up to expectations at this point.

Recommend curve warnings at Silvercreek on Hwy. 7

A coroner's jury has recommended signs indicating a slow, dangerous curve be placed at the north and south ends of the Silvercreek curve on Highway 7 to give ample warning to cars approaching the turn. The inquest was held in Milton Thursday, to determine the cause of death of William Morden, 30, of Fergus; Joseph Francis Maloney, 44, of R.R. 3 Orton, and Robert Hunter, 37, of Elora.

All three were killed May 18 on Highway 7 at the Silvercreek curve north of Georgetown when the truck Maloney was driving collided head on with a car driven by Morden. Hunter was a passenger in the car. Tests showed Hunter had .18 per cent alcohol in his blood, while Morden had .24 per cent and Maloney had .19 per cent. Assistant crown attorney Murray Roulston said this was equivalent to eight or nine drinks each.

Morden and Maloney were said to have died of ruptures when the steering wheel was pressed into their chests. Hunter died from third degree burns.

Constable J. Redpath and Corporal Kenneth Kingman of Milton O.P.P. both testified the truck had appeared to be travelling south and the car north when they collided.

Ronald Boulding, a registered professional engineer said it was almost impossible for the truck to be travelling south. He said it would have had to bounce back 70 feet.

The jury told the inquest, "We feel the reflexes and reactions of both drivers were reduced due to the quantity of liquor or beer consumed by both drivers." Dr. P. R. Garrod was the officiating coroner.

Philip Tapley, a companion of Burgoyne's said Burgoyne had been following him. Tapley slowed down to allow a motorist in front of him to make a right turn. Burgoyne passed Tapley and hit the car driven by Arthur Russell.

Mrs. Russell died and Mrs. Russell was badly injured.

Total $1,535

A total of $1,535 was raised for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind this year by canvassing members of Milton Lions Club.

C.N.I.B. Blitz chairman Gus Mowbray noted the club still hopes to hear from a number of large industries who add to the funds annually, but the door-to-door gathering is over for another year.

The total surpassed last year's collection.
