"Shepherd of all" is Knox W.M.S. topic

The Evening Department of Knox Church Women's Missionary Society held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald Kennedy when a pot luck supper was enjoyed by all. At the meeting which followed supper, Mrs. Ivan Armstrong read the 23rd Psalm and led in prayer.

Mrs. Robert Mackay was in charge of the study and enlarged on the Psalm, basing her remarks on a small book, "The Shepherd of All" with interpretations by George M. Lamsa. With the knowledge of what the shepherd meant to his flocks and the position he occupied in his community, it is easy to understand God's care for us as it is shown by this beautiful Psalm. God is often pictured in the Bible as a shepherd and his people as sheep. No other illustration is more fitting to illustrate God's care for his children. Just as sheep need the shepherd's guidance and protection while they are led up to mountain paths, man needs God's guidance and care in order to be led in the narrow paths of life, and to find his way in a vast universe.

Cancer Society teas

Daffodil symbol of hope

On a spring day many years ago, a group of Cancer Society volunteers decided to decorate the tables for a Cancer Tea with daffodils. These early spring blooms, they felt, represented a sense of hope—renewed life. This sense of hope and renewed life was exactly the feeling which the Cancer Society volunteers wanted to express in every facet of their work; Education of the public with regard to the necessity for an early visit to the doctor when warning signals are noted; Service to those unfortunate persons who were suffering from the disease of cancer; and the raising of funds to support the work of Cancer Research to find the cause and a cure for this disease.

Years later, the same group of volunteers discussed the possibility of having a Daffodil Day at the beginning of April—the Cancer Society's Campaign month. An anonymous donor ordered and paid for 5,000 daffodils to be flown into Toronto from Vancouver. A group of veterans from the Second World War sorted and cut them and shipped them out across the City of Toronto.

From then on, Metropolitan Toronto has annually celebrated Daffodil Day at the beginning of April. Other cities have followed suit. Beyond this, in every large and small centre in Ontario, Daffodil Sunday is now celebrated—with bouquets of daffodils decorating churches of all denominations, with pastors mentioning the day from the pulpits, with generous-hearted florists donating the flowers to the churches, banks, stores and other public meeting places throughout the province.

The message of hope which every volunteer increasingly endeavors to bring to her work is symbolized perfectly by the flowers of spring of which Shakespeare wrote. Today, they have become as much a symbol of the Canadian Cancer Society as the Caduceus.

The Milton and District Unit of the Cancer Society is using the Daffodil Tea idea to good advantage again this year. Three teas are scheduled in the town and district during March, leading up to the annual April campaign for funds. The first is this afternoon (Wednesday) in St. David's Church at Campbellville, another will be held next Wednesday evening in St. Stephen's Church at Hornby, and the third is scheduled for Holy Rosary Hall in Milton on Wednesday afternoon, March 26.

The convener, Mrs. Mullen, read the scriptures from John III, verses 1-17 and also from the book: "One Way for Modern Man".
