

Drew-Gardner

A double-ring wedding ceremony in St. David's Presbyterian church, Campbellville on July 5 united a local couple in marriage as Judith Ann Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gardner of Campbellville, became the bride of Larry Joseph Drew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Drew of Milton.

Rev. D. R. Nicholson solemnized the wedding vows. James Zehr was organist.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a full length gown with empire waistline, and a lace edged train was held by a satin bow. The sleeves and neckline were edged in lace. Her veil was a cluster of hand-made nylon sheer flowers with tiny simulated seed pearls, attached to a three-tier nylon illusion scalloped bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of pink junior miss roses and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Donna Fritley of Goderich, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Miller and Miss Brenda Miller of Campbellville, and the flower girl was Miss Janet Gardner of Campbellville. The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore full length gowns of yellow lace over taffeta with empire waistlines, and carried bouquets of daisies. The flower girl wore a dress of white embroidered organza over yellow, and her bouquet was a miniature of the bridesmaids'. Their headpieces were matching daisies.

Ring bearer was Stephen Drew of Milton, brother of the groom. Wayne Drew of Milton was his brother's groomsmen, and Glenn Wilson of Milton and Bill

MR. AND MRS. LARRY J. DREW

Fritley of Goderich were ushers.

For the wedding dinner in the church hall, the bride's mother received in a mauve silk worsted dress with mauve and white accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a beige lace dress with lime green and beige accessories, and a corsage of gold sweetheart roses. A dance was held at Brookville Hall that evening.

For the honeymoon trip, the bride wore a mauve linen coat and dress ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. They have returned to live at 235 Ontario St. N., Milton.

Wedding guests were in attendance from Goderich, Guelph, Alton and Milton.

Miscellaneous showers honoring the bride were held by Miss Sandra Moore of Moffat, Mrs. Doreen Bill and Miss Anne Wheelihan, Campbellville, Mrs. Dorothy Hadley and Mrs. Marjorie Powys, R.R. 3, Georgetown.

Gilmore-McKerr

Grace Anglican Church in Milton was the scene of the candlelight, double ring wedding of Joy Ann McKerr and Reginald Charles Gilmore on June 7. The bride, a secretary at Sheridan Equipment Ltd., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McKerr of 260 Woodward Ave., Milton. The groom, a real estate salesman with Axler and Palmer Ltd., of Toronto, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gilmore of 5 Reid Court, Georgetown.

Rev. R. Foster conducted the 7 p.m. service. The organist was Mrs. J. Ledwith and the soloist Bill Brush sang The Lord's Prayer and O Perfect Love.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white organza over taffeta, appliqued with pink flowers. Her headdress was of pink organza rose which held her floor-length veil appliqued with pink flowers. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and babies breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lynn Gee, sister of the bride, wore a full length gown in yellow organza with a full length train. She carried a white orchid with yellow sweetheart roses.

The three bridesmaids were Miss Linda Gilmore, sister of the groom, Mrs. Diane Chestnut, a friend of the bride, and Miss Sherry McKerr, cousin of the bride, wore pale mauve floor length gowns of organza with trains. They carried mauve orchids feathered with yellow carnations.

The best man was Bill Gordon, a friend of the groom. Ushers were Raymond Gilmore, brother of the groom, Bill Gee, brother-in-law of the bride and Don Mahon, friend of the groom.

An evening reception following the wedding was held at the Milton U.A.W. Centre with 150 guests in attendance. Mrs. McKerr, mother of the bride received wearing a coat-dress ensemble of champagne silk shantung and black patent leather accessories with a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a coat-dress ensemble of pink shantung with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania was the honeymoon destination, and on leaving the bride wore a coat-dress ensemble of pink wool with black patent accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses. They returned June 16 and took up residence in Cooksville.

The wedding cake was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Frank McKerr and was iced by Mrs. Art Wilson. A lucky horseshoe was flown from England and was presented to the bride by Susan Burton.

Wedding guests came from Milton, Georgetown, Toronto and London while the bride's sister and brother-in-law travelled from Saskatchewan for the wedding.

The bride was feted before the wedding at a miscellaneous shower held by Mrs. Chris Burton, Mrs. Lorne Gundlack and Mrs. Dick Martin at the home of Mrs. Burton. A miscellaneous shower was held by Mrs. Diane Chestnut, Mrs. Sadie Watson and Miss Sherry McKerr, while another shower was held by Mrs. Frank McKerr.

Another miscellaneous shower was held by the groom's relatives in Georgetown.

MR. & MRS. DAVID FALKENSTEIN

Falkenstein-Elliot

In a double ring candlelight ceremony in Emmanuel Baptist Church on July 4, Jean Elliot and David Falkenstein were married by Rev. Clayton Coles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Williams, Milton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Falkenstein of Sussex, England.

An arrangement of pink carnations and white mums decorated the front of the church with tall standing candelabra with white candles on either side of the pulpit. The pews were marked with white bows and pink flowers.

The bride wore a full length dress of blue chiffon over taffeta, a long chiffon cape of the same color gathered at the neck with a circlet of lace. Her headpiece was the same color as her dress. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

The bride's niece, Carole Brown of Toronto, was maid of honor and wore a full length gown of corded taffeta with an empire waist. Her headpiece was a band of variegated pink carnations and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers with long green streamers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Groomsmen were Barry Falkenstein, brother of the groom. Ushers were Wilford Williams, brother of the bride, and Leslie Falkenstein, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Fred Benson was soloist. She sang, "Love, The Perfect Gift," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I come to Thee."

Mrs. Norm Hare played the organ. The reception was held in the lower auditorium. The tables were decorated with different colored roses in bowls, wedding bells and streamers. Mrs. Fred Benson and Norm Hare sang a duet, "Abiding Love."

Out of town guests were from Haliburton, Oakville, Campbellville and Toronto.

Telegrams were received from the groom's parents and friends in England.

The bride's mother received her guests wearing a purple crepe dress with white accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

Mrs. Chessel Sisson of Haliburton received for the groom and wore a light green and white fortrel suit and white accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations.

The couple left for a motor trip to Vancouver, the bride wearing a coral dress and coat with beige accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

Prior to her wedding the bride was honored at a personal shower at the home of Mrs. Fred Benson, Campbellville, a linen shower at the home of Mrs. Fred Robbins and a crystal shower from the ladies of Elmwood Crescent was held at the home of Mrs. Don Hayward.
