

CEREMONIES at the Rover Moot held at Kelso on the Labor Day weekend were held at the base of this hill just below the main campsite on the northeast corner of the conservation area. Events such as these opening ceremonies went on all day and at night, the king's stand was converted into a stage and a talent show was held each evening which managed to last into the small hours of the morning.—(Staff Photo)

Rep by pop would hurt rural areas-Gillies

Population should not be the only basis for determining representation in regional government, Deputy-Reeve W. Gillies suggested to members of Halton County Council last week.

He reviewed that Oakville had a north ward with two representatives and a population of only 3,000 while urban wards had populations of 12,000 and up.

"To use representation by population in Halton would disenfranchise people in northern areas and I don't think people in the urban areas want that to take place", he declared. Council was reviewing plans for staff meetings on the subject of regional government.

Reeve A. MacArthur prodded council, noting Nassagaweya Township had been one of the first municipalities to submit a brief and the county had not yet said whether it agreed or disagreed with the township views.

SPLASH! King Arthur, camp chief Gary Clark, was called on to receive thanks from the Rovers at Moot '69 during the closing ceremonies Monday. Little did he know the thanks were all wet.—(Staff Photo)

KING'S COMPETITIONS were carried on throughout the Moot and log sawing was part of the events Rovers participated in. This crew from Galt, the number six crew, was doing well in competition but seconds after the picture was taken, the handle flew off one end of the saw, leaving a sawed-off crew and an un-sawn log.—(Staff Photo)

—Work is continuing at Milton's new well at Kelso.

—Halton and Halton East Conservatives are planning their annual chicken barbecue and corn roast at Hornby Park this Sunday afternoon. Halton M.P. Jim Snow is the official "host".

"I DUB THEE winners of the Rover Moot '69", proclaimed King Arthur on Monday as he knighted the winning crew from Port Credit, the Cantinels. This crew placed within the top three of nearly every event they participated in, to take top spot with second going to the Galt crew and third going to the delegation from Glasgow, Kentucky.—(Staff Photo)

—One of Halton's largest Supreme Court sittings began in Milton Tuesday, with 117 divorce actions on the slate.

DONKEY JOUSTING is a take-off on the mediaeval sport of jousting when knights charged each other with lances and the only protection was offered by a suit of armor. "Knights" at Moot '69 had only the protection of a motorcycle crash helmet and foam-rubber tipped lances as they set out after one another on the backs of a little donkey and a rather large mule. No casualties were reported as combatants tried to gather points by scoring the most number of hits on their opponent's shield.—(Staff Photo)
