"The horseless carriage will greatly reduce the death rate in cities", Dr. James J. Walsh foretold in 1900. He reasoned that, since houseflies like to lay their eggs in horse manure, the coming of the horseless carriage would result in manure-free streets and would remove a serious source of infection.

HALTON CENTENNIAL MANOR had a booth entered at the Fall Fair for the first time this year and the residents sold their arts and crafts made through the year. Mrs. Nancy Dougpegne, a Manor resident is about to complete a sale of a pair of slippers to Mrs. June Leonard of Hornby although

Mrs. Leonard's daughter seems to have other ideas about a covered coat hanger, also made by Manor residents. From all indications, the Manor did well in their sales during the day and a half they were in operation.—(Staff Photo)
