

TERRY ANN COULSON and Douglas Roy Rowbottom exchanged wedding vows on Sept. 27 at Lowville United Church. They have taken up residence in Port Credit.

Waldie-Tuck wedding in Georgetown church

In St. John's United Church, Georgetown, on September 13 Rev. B. Scrivens officiated at the marriage of Patricia Anne Tuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tuck, 43 Queen Street, when she became the bride of David Waldie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldie, R. R. 2, Acton.

The altar was decorated with an arrangement of pink glads, white shasta daisies and baby's breath.

Bernard Shrubsole was organist and during the signing of the register he played Oh Promise Me and Whispering Hope.

Mr. Tuck gave his daughter in marriage in a double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of imported lace with long sleeves and high neckline trimmed with white satin ribbon and lace. A sweeping train of silk organza edged in lace and satin ribbon fell from her shoulders. She wore her grandmother's locket, a family heirloom.

A cluster of pearls and rhinestones held in place her shoulder length veil. She carried a garland of pink sweetheart roses, white carnations and trailing ivy entwined with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Sharon Scheel of Kitchener, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an empire gown of buttercup yellow chiffon over taffeta trimmed with yellow daisies, with a train falling from the shoulders. She wore a matching headpiece of yellow flowers which were entwined throughout the hair. She carried a garland of white shasta daisies with green streamers.

Mrs. Marg Tuck, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Lynn

Medland, sister of the groom, both of Acton and Mrs. May Haynes, friend of the bride and groom of Brampton, were bridesmaids. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor only they were in peppermint green. Their bouquets were yellow shasta daisies with yellow streamers. They wore a strand of pearls, gifts of the bride and groom.

Miss Christine Hoare, cousin of the bride and Miss Lillian Waldie, sister of the groom, were flower girls dressed alike in yellow bonded crepe dresses trimmed with tiny bows. They carried baskets of a mixture of yellow and white shasta daisies and wore sterling silver lockets, gifts of the bride and groom.

Fred Collins of Acton was the groom's best man.

Don Tuck, brother of the bride and Ernie Medland, brother-in-law of the groom, both of Acton and Dan Haynes of Brampton acted as ushers. They wore dinner jackets, black pants and boutonnières tinted to match corresponding bridesmaids' dresses.

At the reception held at the Odd Fellows Hall Mrs. Tuck received for her daughter dressed in a light green ensemble trimmed with beads with hat and shoes to match, with a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and gold ribbon. Mrs.

Waldie received for her son wearing a coral ensemble with hat and shoes to match, with a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

A dance party was held in the Odd Fellows Hall in the evening. For a honeymoon trip north the bride wore a turquoise wool suit with matching fur cuffs, black velvet picture hat with black accessories. Her corsage was red sweetheart roses.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored with five showers. Mrs. Sharon Scheel and Mrs. Marg Tuck held a miscellaneous shower in Kitchener. Mrs. May Haynes held a miscellaneous shower in Brampton. Mrs. Lynn Medland and Mrs. Darlene Smith, aunt of the groom, held a kitchen shower in Milton.

Miss Jo-Anne Smith held a pantry shower in Georgetown and a miscellaneous shower and presentation was held by the office staff at Lytton Systems in Rexdale where the bride is employed.

There were two stag parties held for the groom. One was held by the ushers in Acton and the office staff of P. L. Robertsons held one in Milton for the groom who is employed in the office there.

They will make their new home on 298 Main St. E. in Milton.

INJUNS, FLAPPERS AND CLOWNS were on hand when Milton Curling Club held a Halloween dance at the curling club lounge on Oct. 18. Winners in the costume competition included left to right, Mr. and Mrs. William Van Grunsven who came as Indians, Mr. and Mrs. Geoff Snell who looked like hobos, a "gentleman" named Ruth McKinnon, and flapper Lois Herr. — (Staff Photo)

Rowbottom-Coulson

A double ring ceremony in Lowville United church at four o'clock on September 27 united in marriage Terry Ann Coulson of R. R. 3, Campbellville and Douglas Roy Rowbottom, R. R. 1, Milton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Coulson and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rowbottom. He is a draftsman, employed by the town of Oakville.

Rev. E. E. Baskier officiated at the ceremony and the church was decorated with standards of glads and mums. Mrs. Eleanor Coulter played the organ.

The bride wore white peau de soie with lace bodice and lace trim, and a four-tier shoulder length veil held with a band of roses. Her ivory earrings were the gift of the groom. She carried yellow roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Lois Coulson, Toronto, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Diane Rogers, Burlington, friend of the bride, and Miss Robin Rowbottom, Milton, sister of the groom. They wore pale mint green Empire-waisted gowns of organza over taffeta and carried yellow daisies.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Groomsman was John Rowbottom, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Pete Rowbottom, brother of the groom, and Darryl Coulson, brother of the bride.

The reception was held in the Youth Centre of the church, with Roy Coulter master of ceremonies.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue dress, pink accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore grey with blue accessories and white carnation corsage.

The wedding cake was made by the groom's mother and decorated by friends.

Guests were present from Hamilton, Burlington, Peterborough, Toronto, Milton, Carlisle, Freeport, Parry Sound, Wallaceburg, Oakville, Gore Bay, Mississauga, Willsonville, St. Thomas, Hanover and Campbellville.

The couple left on a trip to Virginia Beach, the bride wearing a green two-piece coat and dress ensemble with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

They are living at Port Credit. Before the wedding, Mrs. Jean Coulson and daughter Sandra, aunt and cousin of the bride, held a kitchen and bathroom shower, and Miss Judy Price and Mrs. Doreen Rouse held a miscellaneous shower at the home of Eleanor Coulter.

Nassagaweya W.I. watch safety film

The Nassagaweya Women's Institute held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. John Henry on Wednesday evening, October 15 with 12 members and one visitor in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Pyott, opened the meeting with a poem "Autumn Leaves". The Ode was sung and the Mary Stewart Collect repeated. The roll call was the naming of a poisonous substance found in the home and many common ones were mentioned. During the business part of the meeting, a letter of appreciation was read from Irene Kidd, a 4-H girl and Mrs. Moffatt spoke of a meeting being held in Acton school for the women of the community on the subject of cancer. Mrs. De Blauw gave reports on the directors' meeting in Milton and the area convention in Guelph.

The convener, Mrs. W. Freeman then took charge of the meeting and introduced Gerald Carton to the ladies. As the theme was safety, Mr. Carton showed two films, one being on the use and benefit of safety belts in automobiles and the second on the danger and prevention of death by electrocution. He concluded with some worthwhile remarks regarding other angles of safety.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Queen and grace and Mrs. Price assisted the hostess in serving a tasty lunch. The hostess and Mr. Carton were thanked for providing a very pleasant and beneficial meeting.

PATRICIA ANNE Tuck and David Waldie were married in St. John's United church, Georgetown.
