Introducing

Our new column

By Eleanor Coulter

The following lines were sent to me in a letter from a friend. She wishes to remain anonymous. She called it just "Thoughts."

On Monday, wash your heart my friend and rinse your cares away,
On Tuesday, iron out harsh thoughts till they are smooth and gay,
On Wednesday, dust away tired frowns and polish up your smiles,
On Thursday, sort out happy deeds and place them in neat piles,
On Friday, think of kindly friends and pleasant things to do,
On Saturday, clean up your cares and mend your moods of blue,
On Sunday, look around and see exactly what you've done, and
Pray the week has been well spent and another well begun.

A different kind of Valentine, wouldn't you say? So may it be with you, my friends.

We think of February as a month that stretches winter out that much longer but let's look at it from another angle. Those snowdrifts that will push up and bloom as soon as the snow goes must already be urging themselves to get moving. The sap in the maples will be waiting for the frosty nights and sunny days of March. And those tulips you planted last fall are gathering nourishment from the soil you packed around them more than a foot in the ground. Yes, it's a real busy time out of sight.

So while you wait, slip out to the forsythia bush or the flowering crab and cut a few branches. Put them in a jug with plenty of water and leave them where it's cool for a day or two. After a short period or orientation they will be ready to be put where it's warmer and then watch what happens... you've stolen a march on Spring.

It isn't likely that we are all taking advantage of something we have already paid for. We contribute our tax money for such national projects as the Queen's Printer, publisher of some of the best books and pamphlets to be found anywhere. Subjects used are anything from Dead Sea Scrolls to Totem Poles.

Your interests may be building bird houses or feeding 50 campers — here is where you can get your information, send a note to the Queen's Printer, Ottawa, and ask to be placed on the mailing list for up-to-date news on current publications.

If you have programs to build concerning citizenship you are entitled to a subscription of the useful magazine, Citizenship published five times a year, or free pamphlets on topics regarding Indian Affairs, English-French relations, or human rights. For these write directly to the Department of Citizenship and Immigration at Ottawa.

Having moved my typewriter into a clean, sunny, uncluttered room I felt I should be able to do my best work. But no! For these moments when concentration and reflection are necessary, looking into an empty sky didn't help. So back went my desk and typewriter to an already crowded room with a window through which I can gaze out over the hills, past a row of stately evergreens and a lone elm tree still standing in the fence row. In the afternoon I have the sun glowing through the panes and if perchance I must work late a glorious sunset helps to wind up the day.

Cryderman-Jacobs

In a double-ring ceremony in Grace Anglican church, Milton, on December 13, Paula Anne Jacobs and Brian Kent Cryderman were married. The bride, a student at Lakeshore Teachers College, is the daughter of Mr. Ernest Jacobs and the late Mrs. Dorothy Jacobs. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cryderman, R. R. 1, Moffat.

The Rev. Foster officiated at the double-ring ceremony at four o'clock and white and yellow mums decorated the altar.

Rose Morris, received the guests wearing a pale blue lace suit with white accessories, pink and white carnations. The groom's mother wore a cream dress with gold and silver metallic embroidery, red sweetheart roses and silver ribbon.

Guests were present from Milton, Oakville, Toronto, Listowel, Bowmanville, Chatham, Campbellville, Waterloo, Clarkson and Hespeler.

Special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morris, Bowmanville; and the groom's grandmother Mrs. Elton Bean, Listowel.

The couple left for a wedding trip to St. Petersburg, Florida, but they had a slow start. The bride left the banquet hall for the honeymoon seated in a wheelbarrow pushed by Reg Thomas. (The couple later transferred to a plane.)

She wore a royal blue French velvet dress with white nylon trim, a Wedgewood brooch, the gift of the groom, and carried white carnations with blue streamers. They are living at 339 Highside Dr. Milton.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Susan Filipowski.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cryderman hosted a dinner for the bride and groom and the bridal party on Friday, December 12, on Saturday, December 24, after they returned from Florida, they were honored at a euchre party held by Badenoch community. They were presented with a pole lamp, TV tables, foot stool and a mat.
