

Students, adults flock to attend summer school

Loads of youngsters and adults are attending regular classes at Halton summer school at Perdue High School in Oakville this summer. The school is a six week session. While it is not yet known just how many people attend the school, Principal Robert Langis said there were 1,400 student subjects. In other words an unknown number of students attend 1,400 classes. Some take more than one course.

Some are taking courses to complete their diploma requirements. Others are taking interest courses and some are taking individual courses to get credits in that subject.

There were twice as many adults and more high school students than expected when the school opened. More teachers were hired once the school started.

Driver education, horticulture and typing are among the courses available as well as regular academic subjects.

Canine patrol?

Not going to dogs

Milton isn't going to the dogs, not just yet, anyway.

After municipal councils were asked to look into the use of police dogs a while ago, Councillor Gordon Krantz and Police Chief Ray Andress did some investigating and agreed on two things—dogs aren't needed in Milton yet, and besides, they're a pretty expensive proposition.

Councillor Krantz told members of council this week the Chief didn't feel any need to have dogs patrolling with the constables. The cost would run $1,200 a year to feed and house the dog, and the force would need a special station wagon in which the dog would ride to the scene of the crimes.

Another piece of information Councillor Krantz imparted to council this week indicates the Milton Police are doing a fine job on clearing up cases. According to Dominion Bureau of Statistics records, the local force has a clearance rate of 52 per cent—seven and a half per cent above the provincial average.

May still be land assembly

A Champion story last week was partly in error when it suggested Milton Council has decided there is no need for a land assembly program for the town.

Clerk Jack McGeachie has been requested to obtain information on a land assembly program under existing legislation, and also to get details on a government-sponsored HOME (Home Ownership Made Easy) plan. Council is not interested in a land assembly program for industry at this time, as Alliance Building Corporation is planning an industrial plaza on the 100-acre Harrop farm north of Base Line Rd. east of Highway 25.

Obituary

M. Boughton

A resident of Milton and district for the past 10 years, John Maxwell Boughton died at Milton District Hospital on July 16. He was in his 56th year.

Mr. Boughton was born and educated in Brantford. In September 1939 he went overseas with the 54th Battery from Brantford and was honorably discharged in 1943 with the rank of Sergeant.

Moved from town Just recently he and his family moved to R.R. 5, Milton.

On February 8, 1945, he married Catherine Irene Hutton at St. Basil's Church in Brantford.

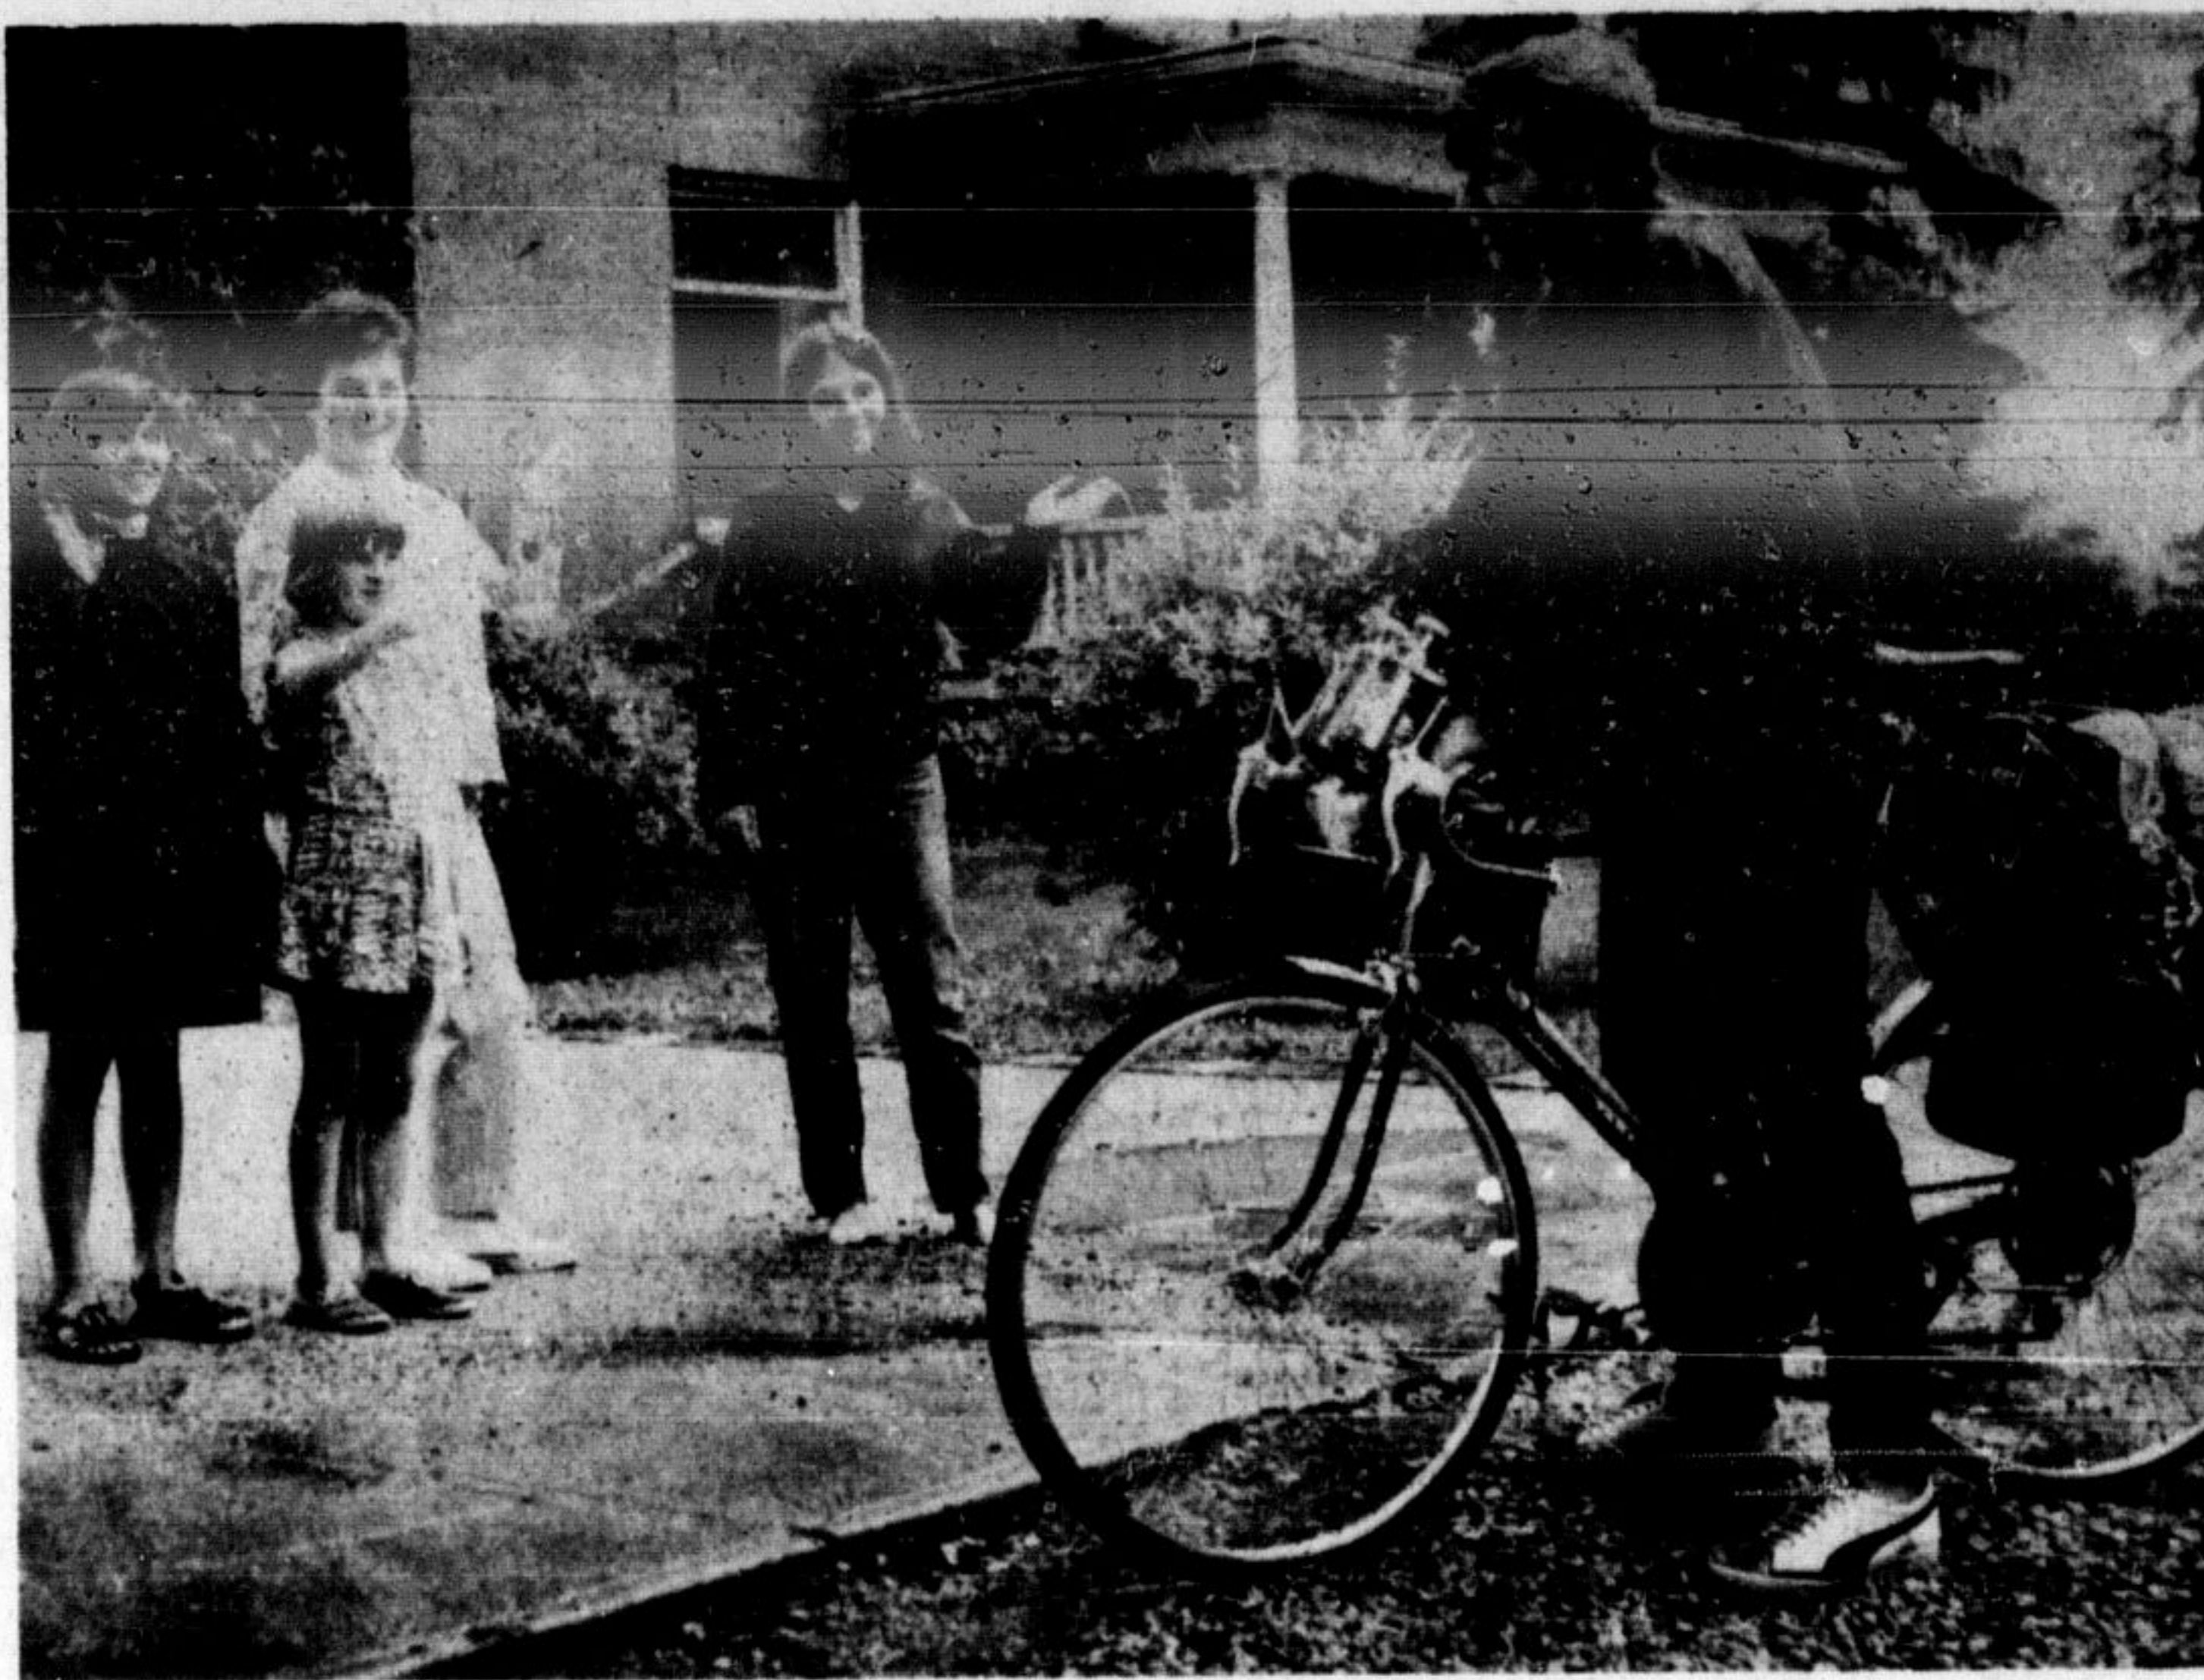

For the past 15 years he was employed at Ford Motor Co. in Oakville. He was an active member of U.A.W. 707 Oakville and was chairman of the Steward Committee at Ford in 1962 and 1963. He was also active in the 54th Battery Assoc., Brantford and a past member of Branch 136, Royal Canadian Legion in Milton.

WAVING GOODBYE—one of a dozen bicycle riders says farewell to their hosts for the night. Dr. and Mrs. Don Aikenhead made room for the riders when they were rained out at Kelso during the evening.

Rain-soaked cyclists spend dry night in Milton home

By Bob Burt

"A-pedalling we will go," might well be a theme song for a dozen American youngsters who are pedalling their way from Detroit to Quebec City, a distance of over 500 miles.

Paynton Shure, 18-year-old son of the head of the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington D.C., four other ambitious boys and seven girls from Baltimore and New York City gathered at Detroit and began their trips by bike.

When they arrived here recently heavy rains made it impossible for the group to spend the night at Kelso Park as planned. Milton District Hospital considered taking the damp crew in, when one appeared there with cuts that needed attention. Dr. Don Aikenhead, the doctor on call that day took the whole group to his home for the night.

"They were like drowned rats when they came here," Mrs. Aikenhead said. Paynton said the people in the area were great and his group appreciated the hospitality. The group stayed at youth hostels where there were hostels and at camping grounds in other places. The travellers packed sleeping bags but no tents, and there is just something different about sleeping under the stars when the stars are replaced by heavy clouds releasing buckets of rain from the heavens above.

Bearded traveller Paynton, a husky 18-year-old sporting a heavy beard as evidence of several days on the bike, acted as unofficial spokesman for the crew.

Paynton got the idea to apply for the trip from his father, who had gone to Europe on a trip sponsored by Youth Hostels of America when he was a youngster.

Organizers recommended about 35 miles a day but the group has covered an average of 50 miles and as much as 80 miles a day. Before they are finished they will have travelled over 500 miles by bike.

Busy year is underway Rotary plans carnival

Reports by committee chairmen to the Rotary Club of Milton indicated plans for a busy year well underway after new officers began their year at the first of July.

It was reported a carnival was being planned for Rotary Park on August 18. The program is a revival of similar events held in the then undeveloped park by the club a number of years ago. This year's event will feature a chicken barbecue.

A car rally is in the planning stages and will be arranged for a date in the fall.

Continue assistance

Interest in parks and playgrounds will continue as new subdivisions are developed it was reported, and the needs for assistance in turning the areas into useful additions to the town's parks system is evident.

A new season of travelogues is arranged and the first program will feature a return visit by the artist who presented a multi-screen program last year. This year his subject will be on Canada. For that Program the night was changed to Thursday but all other programs in the series will be held on Tuesday as usual.

A number of other programs are being developed and will be detailed as plans are finalized.
