Canoe races, treasure hunt highlight weekend camporee

Oakville District Fall Camporee for Scouts was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at their campsite on the Sixth Line, Nassagaweya. Over 120 boys enjoyed a weekend of fun and learning despite intermittent showers.

Registration was held Friday evening and on Saturday the boys enjoyed a trip to Kelso Conservation Area where they competed in canoe races. The boys learned the proper way to handle and paddle canoes and competitions were held on both novice and experienced levels. Pouring rain Saturday afternoon prevented the group from staging a final run-off. All semi-finalists' names were put into a hat and the winners were chosen.

Rain dampens game
Any boys not wishing to master canoe racing stayed at the campsite for a soccer tournament, but the rain also drew a fast conclusion to the tournament.

On Saturday night the boys enjoyed the movie "Ice Station Zebra" on loan to them from the MGM movie company. Sunday morning featured the Scouts' Own services, both Protestant and Catholic, followed by a treasure hunt. Woodcraft training with axe and knife were also available for boys wishing to earn Campcraft badges.

Venturers cooks
A tuck shop selling hot dogs, pop and chips was run by the Venturers. The Venturers did all the cooking for the group; the leaders washed all the dishes.

Camp chief for the program was John Goulding of Milton. Assistant chief was Tom Wright of Oakville. Chuck Heroux, Trafalgar was secretary-treasurer and Andy Bourke, Oakville acted as program director. TOWARF of Oakville provided an ambulance and power boat for the weekend with crew members standing by.

File complaint on dinner chop

Criticism of Milton Planning Board over the cancellation of the annual Mayor's Dinner was quickly glossed over during a meeting of Milton Council held Monday.

The board decried the cancellation of the dinner. "The comparatively small expense entailed is far outweighed by the opportunity to say 'thank you' to a large segment of dedicated citizens," said the board's motion. (Council decided to cut out this year's dinner to save the $500 cost in view of an anticipated municipal deficit.)

"It makes me weep, but I still feel our resolution is in order," said Reeve Ron Harris. Councilors offered no other comments and filed the letter.
