SAFE DISTANCE
Heavy traffic makes it difficult to maintain a safe driving distance behind automobiles in front. If another car cuts into the space a safe driver has allowed, the best response is to drop back again to a logical distance. Even in slow traffic the recommended distance is one car's length for each 10 miles per hour of speed.

Lights still shine

All over Canada, the Christmas lights are shining. Blue, green, gold and red they sparkle, their radiance displacing shadows here, highlighting them there, both within doors and without. Nothing could be a more significant symbol of this season, or, after the shock and fear of our unhappy fall, more welcome. How we need light!

Christmas, of course, can be mere escape - for some even an orgy - but for the thoughtful this returning celebration of the Birth helps to restore our sanity and our humanity.

Machines may be everywhere, but Christmas reminds us that it is man who makes and operates them. Laws may rule us, or try to, but it is men who make the laws. Every new thrust forward, every dream that lifts us even briefly from our sorry ruts, begins in some human heart. Here lie buried the seeds of our hope and our despair.

For a few precious weeks, thank God, hope is once more ascendant. We dare believe that better and more significant tomorrows may even now be lying in the cradles of Canadian homes, as once they lay, for all men, in a Bethlehem manger.
