CLOSE INSPECTION for this old Waterloo steam engine came from an old-timer who appreciates the nostalgia connected with such machines.

A LOT OF FUN for this youngster, Robert Harrell of Kingston, was pumping the handle on the old CNR handcar. It sat on tracks outside a vintage railway station displayed for the first time at this year's Steam-Era reunion.

LOOKING AND LONGING, a crowd gathers to inspect shiny, restored antique cars at the steam reunion. There were close to 30 antique vehicles on display, most of them in mint condition. —(Staff Photos)
