

"Jesus . . . Superstar" prompts WMS debate

"Now is the time for change" was the theme of the fall rally of the Brampton Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society held in Dixie Presbyterian Church, Mississauga, on Sept. 22. This rally service was unique in that it projected a musical introduction or rock opera, using the record "Jesus Christ Superstar".

The record portrays the last days of Christ as if they were experienced by contemporary people, and a group discussion on the recording followed the call to worship by Mrs. Betty Phillips. Readings relevant to this opera were taken from the New English Bible and were read by Mrs. Mary McLean, Mrs. Margaret Smythe, Mrs. Ann Holman and Mrs. de Groot.

Study purpose
Miss Lois Powrie, regional secretary of the W.M.S., led a further discussion on the presentation and asked the ladies "What purpose do you see in this type of service?"

The majority of ladies attending the meeting felt these young artists who made the recording had opened the door wide with their repeated query—who are you, what do you say you are? The answers were varied and thought-provoking.

Miss Kerry Knickle led the entertainment portion of the program by singing "I don't know how to love Him" and the hymn "Were you there when they crucified the Lord" was sung in unison, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Roma Brown of Oakville.

Closing date
Mrs. Hambley, treasurer of the WMS, noted Dec. 15 is the date for the closing of financial returns.

Campanologist Mrs. R. C. Moffatt of Guelph highlighted the afternoon program with her "Music of the Bells". Musical compositions formed a background to her subject "leisure" and her musical selections included "Bells of St. Mary's", "The Lamplighter", "Country Garden" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

It was announced the annual meeting for 1972 will be held in Norval.

Cheques for $200, $347 given mentally retarded

North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded met Monday, Oct. 4 at Hornby ARC Workshop. Ten members were in attendance for this meeting. Mrs. J. Barton, treasurer reported the Knox Presbyterian Church Young People's Society, Milton, had donated a cheque for $200 to the association. Also, the Canadian Legion, Milton had donated a cheque for $347 from their recent dance which will be used to defray some of the expenses incurred in setting up the Tinkerbell pre-school nursery, located in part of the new addition to the ARC Workshop.

William Treahy, Adult Services chairman, reported the open house held at the ARC Workshop on Sept. 11 was successful, with over 300 people present.

Mrs. W. Isham, director of the Workshop, noted the trainees are making Christmas cards which will be for sale to the public.

Mrs. L. Langedyk, membership chairman, reported 67 members in the North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded.

Mrs. J. Kuiken, head of the Tinkerbell Nursery School, reported there are now five pre-school children attending, from the ages of two to five years, with two helpers and several volunteers, but that more volunteers are needed from Milton.

Next executive meeting will be the first Monday in November, and the public is invited to attend any of the meetings and see how the Association functions.
