Greaser Week reflects 50's

By Ed Ford
Things are back to normal once again, after the Christmas holidays, or at least partially. The first week back was declared greaser week. Most of the able bodied men in the school brought their tubes of grease (long since used) and slicked their hair back '50's style. The most popular mode of attire was short black jeans, a white T-shirt with a light blue shirt over it, undone of course and with the sleeves rolled up and white socks with pointed black shoes. The girls came en masse in long, long skirts, white bobby socks, running shoes, a shirt and with their hair in pony tails.

An assembly was held during the two lunch periods in honor of the week as the big boys would not let the school out of class time for the festive occasion. Micky Nostril and the Nosepickers were the featured group and they consisted of Micky Hercules Hormone, Duke Zimmerman and Arthur Pinhead. They did some good ol' rock n' roll like Elvis "All Shook Up", and the Beach Boys, much to the enjoyment of just about everyone. A few Fraternity Brothers who are not responsible for their actions, threw garbage at the star performer, but did not find his mark so Arthur kept on wailing. Better luck next time, frat boys.

High time
On Friday night The Teenage Band was at White Oaks to top off the festivities. They did all sorts of songs, not all old stuff. Quite a number of people turned up decked out in greaser attire. And true to form a lot of kids got the boot for being in the state of inebriation (drunk).

The French trip to the Winter Carnival has been slated for February 10th to the 14th. Not only do you travel via the rapido you stay in one of Quebec's swank hotels which isn't too bad for a mere fifty dollars. Aussi, il n'y est pas necessaire d'aller en école pour quatre jours.

Nothing else is new except the boys on top have uncommonly lenient on skippers, which is rare. They must have had too much good will and joy over the holidays. Oh, and all the status freaks are back with their tans and stories about how unbearably hot it was in Florida, but that's how some people are.

Math game for teachers

Two teachers of J.M. Denyes School will be journeying to Acton Jan. 19 to take part in a "math game workshop". The teachers will, with other teachers in the County help to devise mathematical quizzes and puzzles for educational purposes. All the principals of Halton County's elementary schools will be holding a seminar at J.M. Denyes on Wed., Jan. 19 to discuss the general problems facing the educators.

The school will be setting up a three phase art workshop. The first phase begins next Monday at 4:00 p.m.

Holiday planned
Milton's elementary schools: J.M. Denyes, Bruce Street and W.I. Dick suggest that January is a slow month with no special activities planned. Parents are advised that children will be gals practice every Friday afternoon usually in gym four and always in those skimpy little uniforms. This year there will be three entries in the four levels — novice, junior, senior and elite in the floor exercise, balance beam, the uneven bars and vaulting. That's great for the guys, but what about us girls? Where is the boys' gymnastics team?

IF THE INTEREST of these youngsters is a standard, then the public swimming at the indoor pool of the Ontario School for the Deaf, which is being sponsored by the Milton Recreation Committee was a popular event on Saturday. The Committee is conducting the program on an experimental basis to determine interest. The pool will be open on Jan. 22 and 29, but will not be open this Saturday.—(Staff Photos)

Film traces trip to South America

Good New Year to you! Well here we are back again. I suppose you are wondering what ever happened to Santa Claus after I told you that Fanny and the gang had threatened to kidnap the sleigh and Rudolph. Luckily Santa and his elves have a subscription to the Canadian Champion and had read my column. He altered his flight plan slightly and left Fanny and the crew stranded somewhere near Dawson City. Needless to say we flew the disappointed group of trouble-makers home for New Year's and they are back to help with this week's column. So let's go.

Parent-Teacher interviews begin next week. Beware, kids, this is the time when your parents get the inside look at what you are really doing in the classroom. Interviews for students with surnames A-L will be Thursday, Jan. 13 and Tuesday Jan. 18 for M-Z. The teachers will be located in the double gymnasium and in the small cafeteria.

This next announcement is to all the men in the crowd. Ladies' gymnastics is in full swing. The team has been chosen, and the Robinson had two very special assemblies this week. Here to report on the first one is Tutsy Typewriter. George Vincent from London, Ontario, visited MM Wednesday with a fabulous film account of his travels on the West Coast of South America. Less than a year ago he and his wife and their two small children visited some of the backward spots of this fascinating country. He described the culture of a few S.A. tribes that very few white men have ever seen and tried to give an inside peak at several aspects of their life style.

Disgusted
Friday, the Board of Education sprang a surprise assembly. Ten members of the Hamilton Philharmonic entertained the senior students with a music and film display. The musicians were outstanding and many of us were struck numb with their nimble fingers. I would like to, however, express my disgust with a few students who were seated in the back of the auditorium who were making such a racket talking and messing around that it must have been rather embarrassing for the musicians on the stage. Come on, you guys — let's show a little
