and Terry Tyner secure the railing of the upstairs platform of the hut. BOTTOM LEFT, carrying lumber is usually a man's job, but Lorna McNeill pitched in and helped to stack the wood. BOTTOM RIGHT, Displaying her expertise with a hammer is Jean Sampson. Milton Youth Council spent the weekend cleaning up the new coffee house. Although the newly formed Youth Council received $450 from Milton Council to pay the rent for three months, youth representatives report they urgently need donations for such necessary items as paint and furniture.—(Staff Photos)

Students pay tribute to past principal

By D. J. Byers

Good morning! Robinson honored a very special guest this week. D. Thomas, past principal of MMR returned to unveil his portrait completed by our very talented artist Steve Pilcher. With more than 500 members of the student body present to witness, Martin Bragg conducted the introductions.

Mr. Thomas explained that eight years ago he took an active part in the planning, blueprinting and building of our high school and now we are "building him into the building". The painting will hang in the centre stairwell platform which as Martin explained, is the heart of the school. Here's to you Mr. Thomas.

Scobie scholars

The grade 12 students of Robinson have been asked to select four scobie-scholars for the channel 11 Hi-Q game in March. The twelve unfortunately are a modest lot and so far we have had very few volunteers. It looks like the teachers will have to step in and give the low down on the academic wizzers.

Sally Ski-Buff here to bring you the 1972 ski teams members.

Trials were held late this week, at that coolest of all cool spots, Glen Eden. Mike Clements, Ian Donaldson and Doug Wright are the male competitors and in the girls' department we have Kim Boggild, Anne Lammerse and Chris Neil. They are getting ready for their meet next week under the ski scrutiny of coach Mr. Shifty Shuttleworth.

Lord Elgin struck the athletic hearts of MM this week zanking our volleyball teams in the ladies' division and our guys' basketball teams. The midget and senior girls met defeat early this week, the juniors continuing their winning form managed a 3-0 game. In the boys league well, the season isn't over yet!

Auditions

Auditions for the production of "Man with the Flower in his Mouth" will be held early this week to determine the second member of the 2 member cast. The producer Mr. Giant Laughton hopes to enter the play in the Burlington Drama Festival this spring.

Dave McKee, Karen Daley named Snow King, Queen

By John F. McIlwraith Jr.
The students at M.D.H.S. have made two excellent choices for this year's Snow King and Snow Queen. Snow King for 1972 is Dave McKee and this year's Snow Queen is Karen Daley. The decision was announced at the dance on Friday, at which time Jeni Ferguson, last year's Snow Queen presented Karen Daley with a bouquet of flowers, courtesy of the Student Council. Last Friday night's dance was remarkable in two ways. First it

I wonder if it's pink or baby blue
The stork has flown o'er the yellow balloon
O yes, I think I'll save a wink or two
"It must be here soon, I've waited since June."

Donna says people come in all day
The stork has flown o'er the yellow balloon
All they say is "Is it still on the way?"
"It must be here soon, I've waited since June."

Jenny says people visit all the time
The stork has flown o'er the yellow balloon.
They ask if it arrived but don't spend a dime.
"It must be here soon, I've waited since June."

Good people who come do not be forlorn.
"It must be here soon, you've waited since June."
Stop the poem! . . . A baby girl has been born.
The stork just swooped down and popped the balloon.
