

MARK FINN age seven of Kitchener was in his glory riding in a replica of the 1903 Oldsmobile. The small car is easy to operate. Mark is the son of Gordon Smith MPP for Orillia and an avid steam buff. Mr. Smith acquired the car many years ago in a swap for headlights from a McLaughlin Touring car and gave it to his son, who in turn has handed it down.

ERNIE ALLEN and a helper prepare to test Mr. Allen's 20 H.P. 1907 White engine by attaching it to a Baker fan, "One of the meanest things a man can hook his engine to" as one old timer said. The fan is used to test an engine's strength.

Ken Fay wins golf tourney

Ken Fay of Milton is establishing himself as an all-round athlete. Fay pitched for several minor all-star teams in previous summers and is a handy asset to have on hockey clubs as well. Recently he proved his worth on the golf course, winning the juvenile championship in Oakville. He finished the tournament in a three way tie and won out in a playoff round over Mississauga's Glen Robinson and Doug Rosart of Burlington. Fay shot 77 on the first 18 hole round and sunk 18 and 35 foot putts in the sudden death round to claim the title at the Glen Abbey course.

—School's in, drive carefully.

—Hundreds of extra copies of today's Champion are being mailed out to Steam-Era enthusiasts across Canada and the United States.

Swedes to visit Oakville

Not to be outdone by the NHL, the Ontario Minor Hockey Association will test the strength of some of its teams in an exhibition series against visiting clubs from Sweden during the Christmas holidays.

Bantam, midget and juvenile teams from a Swedish first division league will play games in a total of 12 Ontario centres including Oakville. The midget and juvenile teams will pay a visit to the "White Oaks" town, December 28.

The Swedish bantam club, Hammerby beat the top team in Russia in an international tournament as peewees two years ago.

A GREAT TIME WAS HAD by youngsters playing in this pile of straw at Steam-Era Saturday. While mom and dad got a big kick out of steam engines and other exhibits youngsters delighted in playing in this pile of straw churned by this old thresher.

THOUSANDS OF BUTTERFLIES stopped off in a grove of evergreen trees at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Clements on Bronte St. S. last week, while winging their way south for the winter. The Monarch butterflies have a habit of revisiting the same places each year and the Clements weren't surprised when thousands of the pretty Monarchs returned for an overnight rest there last week. A few are pictured on one tree.
