Wedding

Gildea - La Marsh

The groom's grandparents from Ireland were among the guests at the wedding of Alma Ruth LaMarsh and Brian Edward Gildea, solemnized at Grace Anglican Church by the Rev. R. W. Foster on Aug. 26. Mr. and Mrs. James Fairfeld of Bangor, Northern Ireland were honored guests at the wedding of their grandson Brian.

The bride, a clerk at Ledwith's Super Save in Milton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Richard of 28 Mill St., Milton. The groom, son of Diarmuid P. Gildea and the late Elizabeth Gildea of 364 Kingsleigh Ct., Milton, is a custom broker with the firm of Thomas Meadows.

Pink carnations decorated the altar of the church for the 3 p.m., double ring wedding. Mrs. James Ledwith was organist.

Early American
Wearing a floor length early American style gown of silk and lace, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The gown had a sweeping train trimmed in white lace and ribbon and a waist length veil with several tiered clusters held by three small daisy cloth flowers over a comb. Her flowers were a cascade of pink sweetheart roses with white carnations.

Monica Andress of Milton was maid of honor and bridesmaids were twins Jean and Joan Cox of London. They wore identical white finely pleated empire tops with light blue formal skirts, with white lace around the waist and down the skirt. All wore light blue hot pants beneath the skirts, with the maid of honor wearing a white floppy hat and the bridesmaids wearing blue floppy hats. Their flowers were nosegays of pink carnations and light blue flowers.

Groomsman was Tom Darcy of Weston with Derek Marchent of Rexdale and John Watson of Burlington as ushers.

Receive telegrams
That evening a reception was held at the UAW Centre where the guests were welcomed by the parents of the bride and the groom. Pink and white bells decorated the hall with table settings of white carnations and pink glads. Guests attended from Ireland, Petrolia, London, Leamington, Morpeth, Nova Scotia, Simcoe, Southampton and Toronto. Three congratulatory telegrams were received from relatives in Ireland.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip through the northern and central United States, the bride wore a lilac empire wrap-around dress with white collar and long sleeves, and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. They have taken up residence at 364 Kingsleigh St., Milton.

Prior to the wedding a miscellaneous shower was given by Miss Penny Cann of 360 Oak St. and another was given by Miss Monica Andress of 198 Heslop Rd.

WEDDING RINGS AND VOWS were exchanged at Grace Anglican Church on Aug. 12 by Brenda Elizabeth Taylor and Raymond James May. They are residing at the Glen Eden Apartments on Bronte St.

Wedding

May - Taylor

In a double-ring wedding ceremony at Grace Anglican Church on August 12, Brenda Elizabeth Taylor became the bride of Raymond James May. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, 206 Sarah St. and works as a nurses aid. The groom, employed by Polymer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James May of 58 John St. Milton.

Rev. R.W. Foster conducted the marriage with Mrs. A. Ledwith at the organ. The church was decorated with yellow mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line dress with lace sleeves and scalloped with lace trim over the taffeta skirt. Her headdress was of Spanish style lace and was the same headdress her mother had worn on her wedding day. The veil was held by a satin rose and orange blossoms. She carried a mixed basket of flowers.

Bridesmaids
Matron of honor was Mrs. Virginia Patterson, a friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Debbie Preston, a friend; Barbara Sauve, cousin of the groom; Leanne Taylor, sister of the bride; and Teresa Sauve, cousin of the groom. They wore floral skirts with pastel green, mauve and pink tops with a heart-shaped neckline, puff sleeves and A-line, and empire waists. The bridesmaids carried cascades and baskets of daisies.

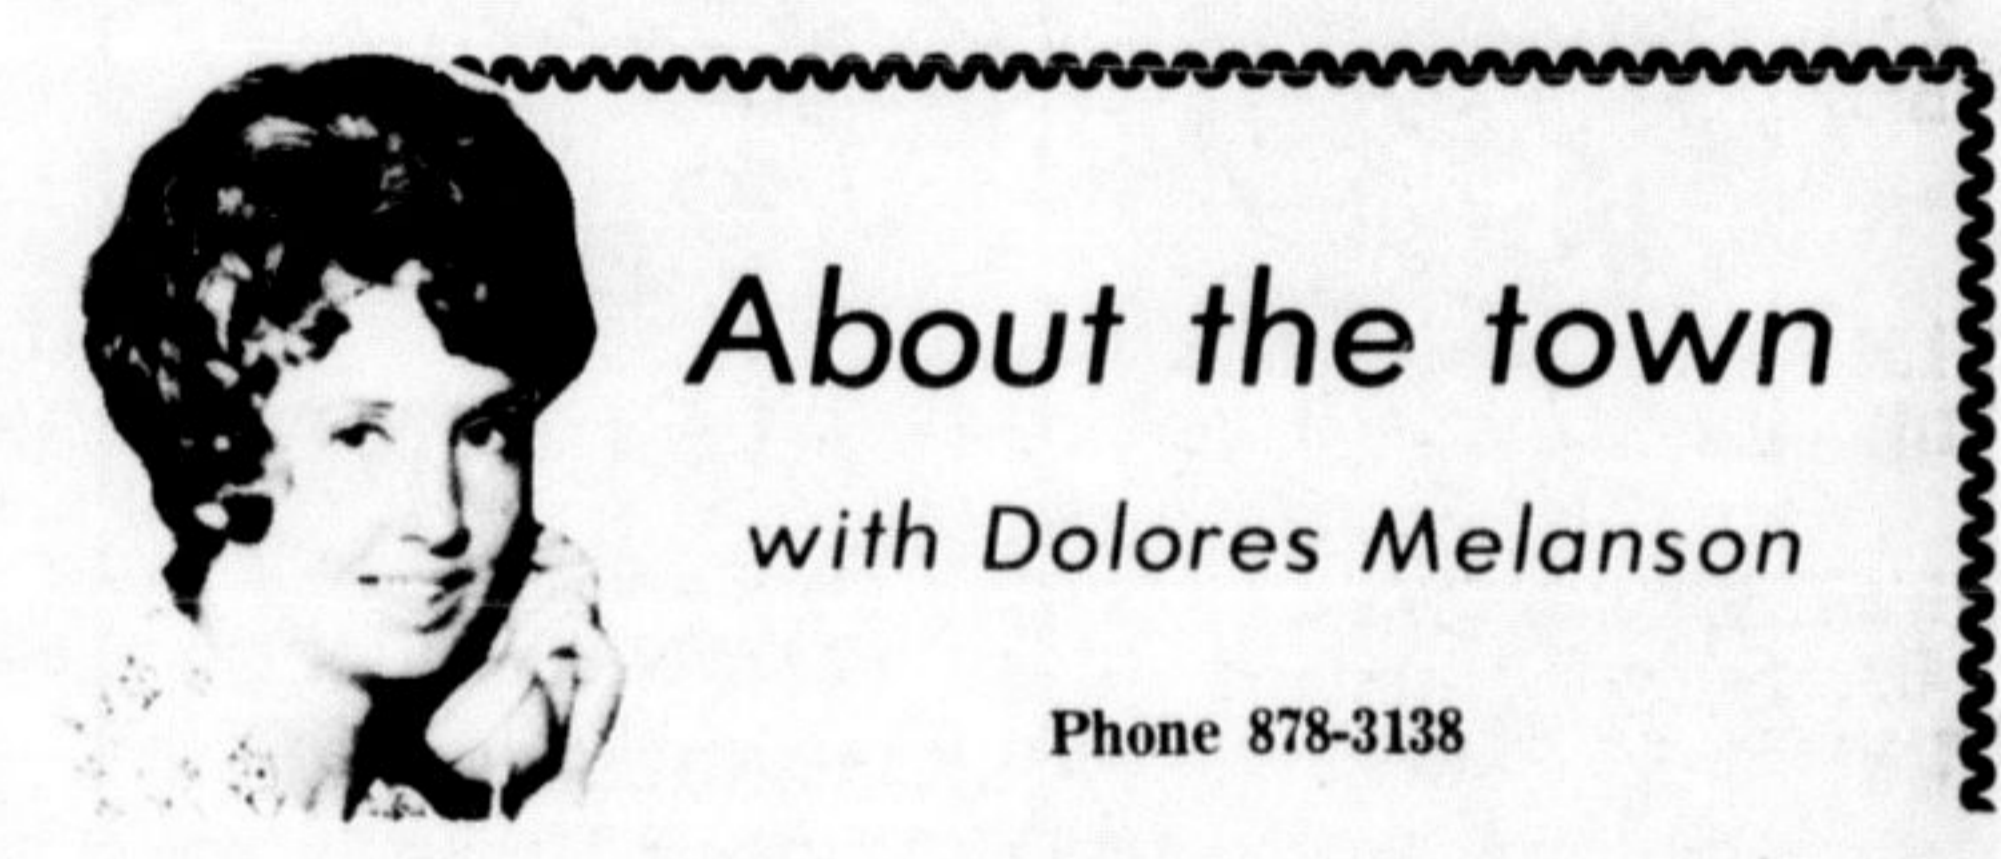

Joseph Hart and John Sauve acted as ushers and a fourth cousin Bobby Sauve was ring bearer. They wore white dinner jackets with red boutonieres.

The reception was held at the United Steelworkers Hall with 165 attending. The bride's going-away dress was of blue crimplene with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. They are residing at 122 Bronte St., Apt. 207B.

Guests
Special guests at the wedding included the groom's grandmother Mrs. Hilda Whetham of Milton and his great-aunt Mrs. W. Brown of Cooksville. The wedding cake was made by the groom's aunt Mrs. Carl May and decorated by Mrs. F. Chisholm. Guests were present from Windsor, Collingwood, Cooksville, Sarnia, Ottawa, Hornby, Milton and Streetsville.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were crosses and lockets. The groom presented his attendants with cuff links and ring bearer Bobby Sauve with a rosary.

Showers were held for the bride by Mrs. Virginia Patterson of Milton, the groom's mother, the groom's aunt Mrs. Betty Sauve and daughters Teresa and Barbara, the groom's grandmother Mrs. Hilda Whetham and the groom's aunt Mrs. Winnie Fetter. On Aug. 11 the groom's parents held a party for the bridal couple, attendants, friends and relatives.

Milton girl registers at school of nursing

Credit Valley School of Nursing at Mississauga recently admitted its fifth class of nursing students. The 135 young women and seven men are primarily from local areas (Mississauga, Streetsville, Georgetown, Brampton, Milton, Oakville, Toronto, etc.) Also represented are Virginia, California, Hong Kong, the Philippines, British Columbia, Quebec and distant regions of Ontario. Eileen Krantz of Milton is one of those enrolled as a first year student.

The new class will commence a two-year programme of study and experience and, upon completion, will be eligible to write the nurse registration examinations set by the College of Nurses of Ontario, to become an Ontario Registered Nurse.

One of 60 Credit Valley School of Nursing is one of over 60 schools of nursing in Ontario.

The school opened in 1968, to meet the needs of the community.

The five area hospitals in which the students receive clinical experience are: Mississauga Hospital, Oakville-Trafalgar Memorial Hospital, Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, Milton District Hospital, and Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital.

Thank you . . .

To everyone who helped to make the Hospital Auxiliary's 13th Annual Lawn Party another success.
