

Ask LIP grant to help construct pool addition

A Local Initiatives Program grant will be sought by the Milton Parks and Recreation Committee to aid in construction of an addition to the Community Swimming Pool building in Rotary Park, Board members agreed last week.

The addition would provide for relocating pumping equipment from the present below-ground location to a drier level and would also include washrooms to serve the park area. Additional storage required would also be incorporated.

Recommending the application for the grant, Director Bob Small noted the grant was based on covering the cost of labor in such a project which would have to be undertaken between December and May.

If the grant application is successful, tenders will be called on the project after a review of the financing.

Ask meeting

In reviewing requests from the Milton District High School for ice time for high school hockey, from the Board of Education for ice time for elementary as well as secondary students and from the Board for a joint-use agreement on Board and town facilities, the Committee agreed to ask Council to convene a meeting. The Committee suggested to council it convene a meeting between the Parks and Recreation group and the Arena Board to consider the joint-use agreement recommended by the Board of Education. Members reviewed that the Recreation Committee could use school facilities for local groups but could not commit the arena in return.

Since such a joint-use agreement would be signed by the municipality, it was felt a meeting of the groups involved could establish the working basis for such an agreement.

The director was instructed to investigate the availability of outdoor rinks at the Ontario School for the Deaf, particularly for weekend use.

Prefer grant

In reviewing plans for development the Committee agreed the 17-lot Gito subdivision should be required to provide cash in lieu of park land with the low-lying strip of land along the drainage course deemed to the town, but not considered for park purposes.

Members approved the Victoria Wood plan without change, for the area at the rear of Ontario School for the Deaf and south between Ontario St. and the Third Line.

A cash-in-lieu of park land contribution was also recommended on the Alliance proposal adjoining Halton Centennial Manor. It was pointed out the pool and tennis courts provided in the area were for the use of condominium owners and not the general public. Since the area adjoined a larger development to the south which contained park allowances, it was felt the total area would be adequately served without requiring a further park dedication within the Alliance area.

More apartments

The Board had no comments on the proposal to construct two more apartment buildings on Millside Dr.

The terms of subdivision agreements, capital levies and funds available for park development were discussed with clerk J. McGeachie who outlined the operation of the various funds.

Director Bob Small reviewed the swimming program underway at the Ontario School for the Deaf, pointing out it attracted a capacity 156 swimmers. The program continues into December, and all groups interested had not been able to be accommodated.

Another diamond

The possibility of improving drainage from the Rotary Park ball diamond was to be investigated and the work carried out this fall if workmen are available. The problem of obtaining adequate ball diamonds for next summer was reviewed and members were to investigate the possibility of locating another diamond in the Halton Agricultural Grounds if permission could be obtained.

The Committee favored an outdoor rink, requested by Marty Caputo if the rink could be located in the sanitary land fill site as last year. The Works Department was to be contacted for the required permission to use the site. The cost of providing boards for the rink was not felt justified, but some snow clearing of the rink would be considered after heavy falls.

LOVERS IN THE PARK sometimes have to contend with peeping-toms, but Pat and Lloyd Benson have to deal with four of them. The couple were having fun at a costume dance for the residents of Dorset Park. The dance, which was sponsored by the Dorset Park

Plan garbage pick-up for North Burlington

North Burlington residents who wish to dispose of garbage and other waste products may do so at five locations between now and Saturday, Nov. 4.

The Town of Burlington does not make daily garbage collections in the north but does pick up waste material at key locations on a periodic basis.

Local citizens can deposit material at the town property south of Zimmerman Church; the corner of Old Cedar Springs Rd. and the Second Sideroad; north-west corner of 10 Sideroad and Guelph Line; No. 3100 Guelph Line; or at the property of Brad Clements, 4231 Ten Sideroad.

The town will collect the material on Monday, Nov. 6. The special garbage pickup was started a few years ago to encourage residents to beautify their properties and roadsides.

Halton elections

On the Hustings

Exorbitant land costs, the high cost of drugs and stiff mortgage terms would all be alleviated under an NDP government says Carolyn Holstein, NDP Candidate for Halton.

She notes the cost of land alone for a home building project amounts to 30 per cent of the total cost. The candidate in a recent speech noted while two and a half cents of every dollar spent on prescription drugs goes towards research, over 30 cents goes towards advertising and promotion.

Most of the people from Halton riding who jumped on three Liberal buses to attend a Trudeau rally in Maple Leaf Gardens last week travelled there only to find the arena was jammed and they wouldn't be allowed in. The fact that they had been provided with reserved tickets meant nothing to the Toronto police officer who submitted, "The word reserved went down the drain tonight."

A second officer urged the people who lined the streets to move to another corner and bother someone else. Those who waited at the door long enough heard the brief speech from the prime minister when he came out to see them. He apologized for them not getting in but thanked them for coming.

Halton NDP's entire budget for the Halton riding is $4,500 and "because it depends on individual contributions and has no access to large sums of money from big business, the NDP cannot compete with the other political parties in paid advertisements. We will try to keep you informed of our aims and platform by voluntary canvassers who will be making a door to door canvass in your area." The message, signed by Acton NDP Association, was contained in a paid advertisement in last week's Acton Free Press.

Prime Minister Trudeau is coming back to this area for one final fling before next Monday's election. He's to be in Burlington helping Liberal candidate Norm McGuinness this Saturday morning.
