

His Nibs nibbles the niblets

That darn cat of Jim Jennings' is addicted to corn and a camera only interrupts his nibbling momentarily (middle) before he attacks the cob again.

Baynton - Campbell

Donna Marie Campbell of Guelph and Larry John Baynton of R.R. 1, Campbellville, were married in Eden Mills United church on November 25. Rev. Findley officiated at the double ring afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Campbell, R.R. 2, Sundridge, formerly of Eden Mills. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baynton, R.R.1, Campbellville.

Bridesmaid was the groom's sister Cheryl Baynton of R.R. 1, Campbellville.

David Price of Malton was groomsman. Mr. Campbell gave his daughter in marriage.

Reception in Milton

In the evening a reception was held in the pavilion at Milton fair grounds.

Guests attended from Acton, Guelph, Eden Mills, Campbellville, Milton, Sundridge, Toronto, Waterdown, Mildmay and Hamilton.

The couple are living at 60 Paul St., Apt. 1, Guelph.

Showers held

Eden Mills community held a shower for the bride-to-be in the town hall early in November.

Mrs. Sandra Dawe, Acton, a sister of the bride, held a miscellaneous shower.

Cheryl Baynton, sister of the groom, Marg Currie and Donna Elliott were hostesses for another miscellaneous shower.

Never place lighted candles on or near a Christmas tree or any evergreen decorations, warns Halton Fire Prevention Bureau. Open flames are too risky anytime, but especially during the holiday season.

Safety checklist for festive season

With Santa about to arrive and final preparations under way for Christmas morning, the Council on Family Health in Canada urges Canadians to tack this safety check list up where they will be sure to see it during the Christmas season.

The Council is a non-profit organization established by members of the drug industry to promote and encourage safety in the home.

Christmas candles are beautiful during the season but make sure they are safely out before you go out or go to bed.

Be sure to have lots of ashtrays around for visitors and when you're cleaning up, put all those butts into a metal container with a little water in the bottom. It may not look too attractive or smell pretty, but it may provide safety. When you empty the container, check butts again to make sure there are no smoldering ashes.

Christmas lights are lovely, but can be just as hazardous as candles. Do not leave them burning for long periods of time and watch out for overloading sockets.

If a cord must run along the floor, tape it down with strong electrical tape. Inquisitive dogs and cats love to play with things like this and can loosen them for all to trip over.

Be sure all tree lights aren't going to speak up when they are at such a high heat they can ignite a dry tree.

Sleep is important during the festive season. The Council says children under three require 14 hours of sleep at night. Naps are important too and can be a life-saver for mothers. Active children cannot always store up enough energy during the night to last all day, so be sure they get enough sleep.

Colds and virus infections are also prominent right after Christmas so be sure to give all the family that well-balanced diet, plenty of rest, fresh air and exercise to build up resistance.

You'll no doubt be going out more during the festive season so have on hand three or four names of good, reliable babysitters. And be sure, as always, to have a list of instructions ready for them with vital telephone numbers and where you can be reached.

To the Electors of Ward Three, Burlington

My sincere thanks for the confidence you have placed in me.

I will do my best to warrant this support.

Sincere Best Wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy 1973.

G. Ella Foote
Councillor.
