Kilbride

Antique collection makes for interesting viewing

By Mrs. P.D.J. Scoones

Over the past 50 years the family of Mr. and Mrs. R.F. Schilling of Cedar Spring Rd., Kilbride, have been collecting antiques dating back to the 1800's, a unique idea was formed this Christmas and a display to the public was put on. Jo Anne Schilling and her mother, Mrs. J. Henry, of Kilbride, with a lot of hard work and enthusiasm then took over almost three rooms in the house and after collating the articles displayed them to great advantage. During the Christmas season Jo Anne decided to carry the theme of the 1800's even further and she greeted her dinner guests wearing pantaloons, smock, apron and cap that had been made in that era.

There is a particularly fine shelf clock to be seen, and articles such as 1800 wedding dress, camisole, undergarments, muffs, patchwork quilts, hats, vanity bags, etc. and even photographs of great, great, great uncles and aunts. There are old advertisements from Eatons and picture post cards.

Bakersville hotel

Some of the things from the old Bakersville Hotel are there, the meatgrinder, sausage stuffer, box stove, bean scales, corn planter and spider grill. Mrs. Henry showed old comic books, school books, and the family Bible dated 1859.

One story that makes fascinating listening was about the old family Schooner named the "Dauntless" that sailed many thousands and thousands of miles only to be sold, and as part payment, a bedroom suite of the early 1800's was taken in exchange, and that is being used by Jo Anne now.

Some of these lovely artifacts are to be handed over to the Halton and Brant Museums so that many more people can see them, but a call to Mrs. Schilling or to Mrs. Henry would enable anyone to have a private view of this terrific collection. Jo Anne and Mrs. Henry are not totally devoted to the past as both are talented artists, Jo Anne has done and Wilbert Nix. The lucky draws were won by Wilmer Mason and Irene Goodfellow.

Six tables of euchre were in play at the Pinegrove Community Hall Jan. 4. The ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. Jimmie Cunningham and Mrs. Jean Brander. The gents prizes were won by Claude McLaughlin and John McLaughlin. The door prize was won by Jim Hamilton.

Joint meeting

A joint meeting of Halton and Peel Safety Council was held on Friday Jan. 5 in Milton with president Bob Mury presiding. At the morning session two films on tractor safety were shown to demonstrate the accidents that can happen on uneven ground and hills or ground hog holes are a threat. Highlight of advice for tractor owners are to make sure all four wheels are on solid ground. Do not hitch loads higher for better leverage. Do not overload trailers or use heavier equipment or the tractor could turn over backwards. Safety cabs, roll bars and safety belts prevent serious injury.

Use a wider track for all work except plowing. Many types of farm tractor accidents were shown, statistics showed that 120 operators were killed and 260 injured in accidents that could have been avoided. Never be in a hurry when using a tractor or machinery. Following the noon luncheon Fire Chief A. E. Clement of Milton Fire Dept. addressed the group and explained his work. He said Milton Fire Department cares for an area of 100 square miles from the No. 15 Sideroad to the Lower Base Line and from the townlines East and West with 20,000 persons in this area. There are 32 volunteer men on the force. And if the call is out of town 16 men go with the trucks.

Fire fighters are carefully selected for the work. They must pass a medical test, receive six months basic training and receive 70 per cent on a written exam. Each man must know first aid, know where each piece of equipment is kept in the trucks, be able to identify fires and the proper extinguisher to use, learn the signals, (lights at night and hand signals in daylight), be good at tying knots and caring for fire hoses, and be able to climb ladders without holding on.

Safety hints

Mr. Clement advised people to know their lot and concession and to give accurate directions when calling for help in case of fire. A film made in Halton County showed many spots in houses, barns and with tractors that were real fire threats. Some of these were poor wiring, dust and cobwebs near light bulbs. Always use safety covers on lights on granaries. Correct makeshift extension cords and use proper fuses.

Aerosol containers can be deadly. Never incinerate or puncture, never refuel a tractor with gasoline if the motor is going, or if the motor is hot, or inside a building. Mr. Clement answered many questions from the group and handed out pamphlets on fire safety.

The Halton Safety Council is co-operating on the Halton County Farmstead and rural home improvement competition.
