Youth Bowling Council

They smile . . . bowling is fun

Every Saturday in Milton 153 young people disappear into a cement block building at the corner of Main and Princes Sts. . . to emerge about two hours later with smiles all over their faces. There's nothing sinister about their actions, they're just involved in their weekly session of youth bowling fun at Milton Bowlway. Co-ordinator June Gould reports about 85 bantams (aged under 12), 53 juniors (aged under 15) and 15 seniors (up to age 20) are currently involved in the Milton Youth Bowling Council's weekly activities and the program is so popular there is only room for a few more bowlers. "We have a lot of new bowlers this year, I'd say about half of them are bowling for the first time," Mrs. Gould said. She and a crew of volunteer adult helpers teach the children how to bowl, how to score, the proper etiquette and good sportsmanship, she explained.

morning and afternoon. The YBC is subsidized by the Bowling Proprietors Association of Ontario and the proprietor of Milton Bowlway, Stan Chisholm puts up 50 cents of the youth bowlers' $1.50 registration fee, as well as granting reduced prices on each game bowled. A complete creasing and awards program is in operation and some of the local bowlers have special bowling shirts half covered with crests signifying big games. There is also a variety of special events such as doubles championships, family twosomes and a Valentine's day event with special prizes. The Four Steps To Stardom program includes a house qualifying round, zone, provincial and national finals.

MP in BC for PCs

Espouses party policy

Halton MP Terry O'Connor in company with George Hees leaves today for a two-day speaking tour in British Columbia today, as part of a party program in which two-man teams of MPs are being sent to university and college campuses across the nation. "The trips are to speak to students, answer questions on party policy, appear on open-line shows and generally espouse the policy and philosophy of our party," O'Connor said. Thursday they will speak on two open-line radio shows in Vancouver and address a general meeting of the PC Club at University of British Columbia. They are also to address political science students at Vancouver City College. Friday will be occupied by a visit to Simon Fraser University.

—Halton's 1973 Dairy Princess will be selected Friday, Oct. 19.
