Zimmerman church marks 83rd year

By Mrs. T. Ramshaw
The 83rd anniversary service of Zimmerman United church was held on Sunday, Oct. 14, with Rev. Peter McKellar as reader and preacher. Rev. McKellar is the Associate Secretary of the Division of Mission in Canada in the United Church. His responsibilities embrace all rural church work in Canada. Although his office is in Toronto, Rev. McKellar and his family have recently moved to Lowville. We welcome them to this community.

Joan Fox was the soloist for the Sunday morning service and the flowers were placed there in memory of Eric McArthur of Kilbride and also from the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McArthur. Our sympathy goes out to Eric McArthur's wife Gertie and sisters at this time.

In hospital
We are sorry that Mrs. Francis Robertson is ill in Milton Hospital again. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Alice Coulson opened her home to the evening group of the Lowville U.C.W. on Wednesday night. Jean Millar introduced the Study Book, "Mission Impossible", a study of the missionary work in the church. Fran Gunn reported on the Presbyterian at Stoney Creek she had attended. A short business was led by the president Marj Hall and Barbara Chewka reported on the talk given by Mrs. Duke at the afternoon meeting. A discussion ensued as to what could be done to help Mrs. Duke in her work. An appeal was made for clothes—particularly sizes 12 to 16 for the Christmas Bureau.

Mountain Union Institute members were the guests of Nelson Institute at the home of Francis McCormach on Tuesday afternoon. There were 34 present. They were given an interesting talk and shown maps of the new conservation work and development along the 12 Mile Creek at Bronte Creek Park by Mrs. Ellen Langland.

The evening branch of the Lowville Anglican church women held a "Pioneer Night" Thursday evening. Lowville U.C.W., Grace Anglican, Kilbride and St. David's were invited.

A short devotion was led by the president Mrs. Lillian Mathies and Mrs. Jeffares closed the worship with prayer. Everyone was very pleased that Rev. Jeffares was sufficiently recovered from an illness and was able to attend. He introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Marie Twiss, who has done a lot of research on the history of this area for some time. She shared her interest with the ladies present by giving them a talk on the history of St. George's church and Lowville area.

Mrs. Diane Christianson thanked Marie. To further carry out the pioneer theme, antiques were on display and Burlington's centennial film was shown.

While lunch was being prepared Mrs. Kathy Powell led a sing song.

Mr. and Mrs. Erland Colling just returned from a short visit to Colling, Michigan where they visited cousins.

Colling is a farming community by three of Erland Colling's uncles.
