UP EARLY IN THE MORNING to dress for Pee Wee town league action doesn't bother Fay's Electric teammates Robert Munro, Mike Manders, Brent O'Flynn and Bob Lendvay. They and five other Pee Wee teams, six Atom squads and four Novice contenders have made early Saturday mornings a habit. The Fay crew won their game with Local 4970 (Steelworkers) 3-2. (Photo by D. Flyers falter draw Preston

A four goal third period effort by the Preston Raiders earned them a 4-4 deadlock with the Milton Continental Flyers here Friday night. Flyers held a 4-0 lead up to the 6:33 mark of the final period. Flyer Ron Rowley started the scoring at 8:20 of the premier stanza when he took a pass from substitute defenceman Dave Robertson, manoeuvred through a set of Preston defenders and deposited a sliding wrist shot past netminder Potvin. Sifted Ray Love doubled the score eight minutes later when he sifted a backhander high into the opposition cage after taking a pass from Rick Bridgman. Six minutes into the second period Ron Twiss gave the hometowners a 3-0 edge when he drilled a blue line slap shot against the Preston twine. Keith McKinnon and Rod Gooding picked up assists. Wrist shot A wrist shot goal from Jeff Lockridge posted a 4-0 score early in the third. Dave Turner and Rick Bridgman combined for assists. Flyers faltered when Preston's Gowing beat Doug Weatherall at the six minute mark. Flyers' attack grew weaker as Preston continued to work their comeback. Stewart and Laslo brought the Raiders into more serious contention when each netted counters in the closing minutes of the period. Pull goalie Potvin left the Raiders' goal with a minute remaining in favor of a sixth skating player. Preston captain Weisenbach notched the tying marker with 24 seconds remaining in the game. Obviously disappointed with the final outcome, Flyer coach Bob Lee blamed overconfidence for his team's failure to win. "They've got to learn any team in this league can win," he said. Without defenceman Lee pointed out Flyers were without regular defencemen Hugh Marshall, George Hood and Pete Chuchmach and indicated their absence had to hurt the club. Chuchmach is presently sitting out a shoulder injury acquired last weekend in Hespeler. Flyers will be travelling to Brampton to meet the cellar dwelling Vic Woods Thursday for the first of three games in four nights. In an earlier encounter Brampton and Milton tied 2-2. Travel Friday Friday night Flyers abandon their regular home ice encounter to journey to Burlington to meet the first place Mohawks. It will be their first encounter of the year. Oakville Blades come to Milton Sunday night to restage a pair of earlier encounters. Milton has yet to beat the Blades, who, so far, are the only club to have beaten the Flyers this season. Family night Flyer management is making the Sunday night home game family night reducing admission to $2.25 a couple and to $2.75 for a couple with children. There will also be four draws for door prizes totalling $50 in local business vouchers.
