

Mistakes

Former Milton referee-in-chief Jim Edge stopped by the Champion office to correct some mistakes appearing in last week's story about Kim Griffiths, Milton Referees' Association's first member.

He pointed out that there is no such organization as the Ontario Board of Referees and reported all that was done prior to Kim's acceptance was a check of Canadian Amateur Hockey Association rules, OMHA rules and Milton Minor Hockey rules regarding female referees.

Rick Rowley, who has been supervising Kim, is not an OMHA card holder, Edge told The Champion.

Edge also stated Kim would not be allowed to take the test for her OMHA because that would give her the right to referee midget and juvenile

Sign, swap at ski club

Registration for the 1973-74 skiing season will be held this Saturday and Sunday at Glen Eden Ski Club.

The club, which operates on the slopes at Kelso Conservation Area, is combining the registration day with a ski equipment swap to be held all day Saturday and Sunday. Officials said anyone wanting to place skis or equipment in the swap should take it to the club Friday evening.

games which, intimated Edge, would be impossible because of her age.

It is hoped Kim will become one of the trained referees available for a girls' hockey league which will begin with the new Milton Arena.

HORNBY MIDGET baseballer Rick Bridgman was on hand at the Juvenile party at Hornby Tower Golf Club Saturday evening to receive a congratulatory scroll from Halton East MPP Jim Snow. Midgets went undefeated through the entire season to bring Hornby another championship.

Dufferin wins two

Milton Dufferin Midgets posted wins over Georgetown and Burlington this week but were bested by Chinguacousy.

Midgets posted a 3-1 score over Georgetown Tuesday night with Guy McGinnis, Steve Hannon and Mike Fraser registering goals. Assists went to Doug Strath with two and Jim McKerr.

Georgetown's Rob Hamilton was able to slide the puck past goalie Terry Fitzpatrick.

Milton was upped by a hometown Chinguacousy team 4-2 Saturday. Milton struck first with 42 seconds gone in the game when Peter Rota forced the puck past Ching goaltender Jim Lockhurst with help from Jim McKerr and Guy McGinnis.

Chinguacousy rapped in four consecutive goals with Milton's Kevin McCoy finding the mark late in the game.

Burlington succumbed to a 5-4 loss at the hands of the hometown midgets Monday. Milton goals were provided by Doug Strath, Steve Hannon, Kevin McCoy, Mike Fraser and Paul Shields. Assists came from Strath, Shields, Fraser, Hannon, Joe Saliba and Jim McKerr.
