4-H clubs organize

Halton 4-H Clubs are presently organizing for the 1974 agricultural club season. A veterinary science club and a snowmobile club are operating through the winter with about 40 members attending and plans for the new year call for the regular line-up of 4-H clubs including dairy and beef calf, field crop, horse, sheep and possibly a tractor club.

An organizational meeting will be held Jan. 16 in Milton for the sheep club, which gives members training in the breeding, feeding and management of sheep. Other 4-H clubs will be organized in the March winter break and anyone wanting information on 4-H is urged to contact the agricultural office in Milton.

Night school courses offer large variety

Courses in everything from antiques to winemaking, auto servicing to yoga are being offered at Halton Board of Education's second session of night school classes in the North Halton area.

Registration for the second session takes place next Tuesday evening, Jan. 8 at the high schools in Acton, Georgetown and Milton, between 7.30 and 9.30 p.m. The first session's 10-week courses ended in mid-December. Next classes start the week of Feb. 11.

Fees range from $10 to $30 but most of the courses are 10 weeks in length and cost only $10. Some courses such as interior design and decoration or brush up your typing are offered at all three schools; some are being offered at two of the three schools; and some are offered at one school only.

Courses offered include photography, bookkeeping, cooking, chair caning, maintenance, painting, drama, fitness, folk guitar, furniture refinishing, plumbing, hostess, knitting and crocheting, landscaping, weaving, pottery, selling and merchandising, rug hooking, snowmobile maintenance and woodworking.

Brochures were distributed to local homes this week and they contain a pre-registration form that can be mailed to night school classes headquarters.

Food prices up at Kelso

Food prices have risen at the food concession at Kelso Conservation Area.

Halton Region Conservation Authority executive approved the recommendation by Canteen of Canada, holders of the concession, that hot dogs will now sell for 40 cents; french fries, 35 cents; soup 35 cents; ham sandwich 60 cents; a raise of five cents each over the previous price.

Hamburgers will cost an additional ten cents, however, having risen from 45 to 55 cents.
