Find many overweight

Almost half the people weighed at the Halton Regional Health Unit booth at the International Plowing Match were overweight. During the five days of the match 618 people volunteered to be weighed and 310 were found to be of average weight, 288 were overweight and 20 were underweight.

The results bear out a study of nutrition made across Canada which stated half of the Canadian population is overweight.

Mrs. Fran Jamieson, supervisor of North Halton, Region Health Unit, said the random sampling of Plowing Match visitors proves the need to examine eating habits, and claims the Canada Food Guide is still the best guide to maintain health and weight control.

Every day needs include: Milk 1 1/2 cups for adults (More for children, adolescents and expectant mothers.)

Fruit—2 servings—1 citrus.

Vegetables—1 green 1 yellow, 1 serving potatoes. Bread & Cereal—bread and butter or fortified margarine, 1 serving whole grain cereal.

Meat, Fish and Poultry—1 serving meat, fish or poultry; eggs, cheese, dried beans or peas may be substituted; Vitamin D 400 international units. (This may be found in milk.)

Meter stalemate . .

Reedes objected to Kanerva's statement the union is refusing to negotiate in good faith. "There is no truth in that," he said. "We could have struck the plant earlier but we kept going, hoping to resolve our problems without a strike. The company asked us to table a position which would get us close to a settlement and we tabled the $1.30 to $1.60 figures, with some flexibility within those figures. Yet he calls that bad faith."

The union will be receiving some moral support this weekend when the executive of the union from the Erie, Pennsylvania plant of American Meter Co. (Canadian Meter's parent company) visits Milton. "They are concerned and eager to know our problems," president Niedzielski said. He hoped the U.S. unionists' weekend visit would be the start of a much closer relationship.

out the responsibilities and tasks the province had assigned in Bill 151.

White said he agreed with everything Harrington said, but noted the province had provided unconditional grants and the funds provided should be allocated as council—not the province—sees fit.

No single tier In answer to a question by Burlington Councillor Mary Munro, the minister said the province had no plans now or in the foreseeable future to install a single tier system of government in Halton. In other words, the area councils and administrations are here to stay for a while.

Asked to comment on whether a police commission has the legal right to sign a lease or enter a contract, White passed to his colleague, Attorney-General George Kerr.

Kerr suggested it might be wise if the region co-signed with the Police Commission on the lease. "Is that necessary?" Harrington asked.

Kerr would only suggest what might be wise, rather than to say what is or is not necessary.

"Well it would never work when my son shot it."
