Campaign opens

Christmas seals out

The 1974 Christmas Seal campaign opened in Halton this week when thousands of seals were mailed out to households in the region, president Mrs. C. W. McKim of the sponsoring Halton Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association announced.

"In the true spirit of Christmas, please give as generously as you can to help those in less fortunate circumstances," she said. With your donations received in the previous campaign, the necessary continuing programs of active treatment of those suffering from the killing pulmonary diseases; education for prevention and detection of such diseases; smoking withdrawal clinics; day camps for asthmatic sufferers; research grants and the purchase of specialized equipment have been possible.

Addresses a challenge
The campaign and its success is the result of the combined efforts of the Association staff, numerous voluntary helpers working with the tireless chairman, C. L. McFadden of Burlington and YOU who support the campaign with your donations. Preparation for the campaign has been progressing quietly and effectively all year, with one of the most difficult aspects being that of correctly addressing the letters you'll be receiving in the next few days.

If, for some reason you do NOT receive your seals, please contact one of the local representatives on the board of directors of the Association, H. H. "Bert" Hinton of Acton, Keith Barber of Georgetown, Mike Ledwith or John Ostler of Milton. They will be pleased to provide seals or more information on the work of the Halton TB and RD Association.

Former minister

The Rev. Frank Lawson, a former minister, returned to St. David's Presbyterian Church Sunday for the 105th anniversary of the congregation.

Mr. Lawson had served the congregation from 1936 to 1941 in his first charge. He had recently retired from the active ministry and returned for the morning and evening services.

Music at the evening service was provided by The Haltones choir which contributed two anthems and followed the service with a half hour concert.

Soloist at the morning service was Mr. N. Gibson.

town also agreed to pick up the cost of dumping five tons of paper the Scouts have collected but have no market for.

Works Superintendent Bruce McKerr noted the town had about two tons of paper that had been collected by SPIN and the town is also without a place to take it. The seven tons will be taken to Oakville to be dumped and will cost $3 per ton, which council agreed to pay.
