Curling Cues

By Dave Del Papa
 Milton Curling Club held its first function of the 1977/78 season Saturday.
 Taking advantage of what could be one of the last pleasant weekends of the season, the men's group held a combination golf-curling day.
 This event took the place of the annual men's get-acquainted stag. Judging from the excellent turnout, this could become an annual event.
 Forty-six golfers took advantage of the sunshine and tested the front nine holes at Hornby Towers.
 Although none of the golfers were boasting their scores, all foursomes finished intact. Back at the Curling Club, the same foursomes that golfed together, formed teams and enjoyed four ends of curling, getting a head start on the curling season.
 The day was topped off with a steak B.B.Q. enjoyed by all. Arrangements for these festivities were handled by past president Jim Sproat, while current president Morley Rasberry extended an official welcome to all in attendance.

 The curling club will be open all this week to club members for practise and instruction.
 If last Saturday's turnout is any indication, we are looking to a successful season.
