Curling Cues

By Dave Del Papa
This past week was a busy one at the Milton Curling Club. On Friday, March 3, the ladies held their "Ladies' Open Bonspiel."

In the first draw, first prize went to Gail Barbour's Oakville team with Milton's team skipped by Kathy McKellar taking second prize. The high one game winner was the team from K.W. Granite, skipped by Norma Curtis.

In the second draw, first prize went to another Oakville team skipped by Berba Buttery. Dorothy Martin's Niagara Falls rink captured second place with the high one game winner being Glad Merritt's team from Milton.

Saturday, March 4 was the date for the Labatt's Mixed In-Club Bonspiel.

The trophy winner in this event was Ron Rowley's rink of Colleen Clements, Craig

Thomas and Carol Coughlin (with Willie Peddie sparing in the first game.)

Runner-up was the rink of Jeff Nurse, Dorothy Taylor, John Trinnis and Penny Rawley.

Other two game winners were Bert Stewart's rink and the rink skipped by Doug Ptolemy.

Kitchen duties for this spiel were handled by the Hurrens, the Peddies, the Buchanans, the Cormacks and Mrs. Werstuck. A special thank you goes to these people.

On Sunday, March 5, the general meeting was held at the curling club. Seven new directors were named to the board. Newly elected directors were George Fletcher, Reg Corp, Jim Sproat, Elmer Dredge, Mike Comba, Dan Sifton and Dave Del Papa.

Streetsville defaults OMHA cards invalid

Georgetown won the midget trophy by default in the 4-town tournament at Georgetown Saturday.

The Streetsville midget team arrived with its cards signed, but not validated by the Ontario Minor Hockey Association (OMHA). Tournament organizers cancelled the Georgetown-Streetsville encounter.

The annual 4-Town Tournament, for houseleague select teams, was sanctioned by the OMHA. The tournament involved teams from Orangeville, Streetsville, Milton and Georgetown.

The error in the Streetsville team cards was caught by tournament organizer Jim Hepburn 20 minutes before game time. Tournament organizers said they felt the card incident was an honest mistake by Streetsville.

Tournament organizers phoned the OMHA's Denver Davis for permission to hold a Georgetown-Streetsville midget exhibition game. Permission was denied, according to organizers.

The OMHA's Ken Russell was on hand during part of the day to ensure tournament officials checked the cards of the teams.

Streetsville used the same cards during a preliminary two-game total point series against Milton. Streetsville edged Milton 2-1 to earn a berth in the championship game against Georgetown.
