Girls' basketball team makes history

The girls at Martin Street School have their sights set on a second regional championship.

The girls' basketball team goes on to the regional elementary school finals tomorrow night after edging out Brookdale School 21-19 in Oakville last Thursday. Last fall Martin Street girls captured the regional volleyball championship.

The team, coached by Sue Amos and Tom Travis, won the North Halton elementary school championship with nucleus of both teams. Patsy McLean picked up a rebound and scored the winning basket Thursday night with 46 seconds left to play and the score tied 19-19. Tricia Riddell led the team in scoring, chalking up nine points. Tricia is the high scorer for the season, earning a total of 217 points in 16 games.

The team, coached by Sue Amos and Tom Travis, won the North Halton elementary school championship with seven wins and one loss in league competition. They won a further six games and lost two in exhibition play.

"The kids have put in a tremendous effort," said Ms. Amos. "They've gone farther than any girls' team ever did in the school's history. Last year they won only one league game, so the team has really improved."

Team members are: Tricia Riddell, Carrie Boudreau, Debra Jackman, Chris

Laycock, Joanne Auger, Julia Harrison, Patsy McLean, Sandy Moore, Debbie Van Hees, Darlene Phelps, Charlene Hymers and Shelley Ferrara.

The best player in the last game becomes captain for the next game. Team managers are Dawn Hastman, Lisa Reynolds and Lisa Horne.

At the regional finals Thursday night in Queen Elizabeth Park School, Oakville, Martin Street meets Rolling Meadows School. Game time is 7 p.m.

Curling Cues

This past weekend saw the Milton Curling Club host the division Nine Governor Generals.

In this event each of the curling clubs in this area send two representatives and the clubs in division nine are Dixie, Chinguacousy, Acton, Orangeville, Brampton, North Halton, Oakville and Milton.

The team from Chinguacousy won the right to continue in quest of the Ontario championship by going undefeated in the single knockout event. The Ching rinks skipped by Mel Hatelt and Don Fraser will compete this Friday in Dundas, the winner advancing to Ottawa.

The Milton rinks did not fare well as they bowed to the Acton entries Saturday morning, to the surprise of all.

The club entry this year was particularly strong but ran into some tough luck. Ken Moore's rink lost its game with Moor at skip, Bert Stewart at vice, Elmer Dredge second and Al Ness lead. Dennis Rowley's rink on the other hand won but on the team points system Acton was the winner.

With Dennis were sons Ron Rowley at vice, Rick Rowley at second and Craig Thomas at lead.

Milton also had two teams in the Ontario Tankard which is run on the same team format. Like the teams here in town they did not fare well up in Orangeville.

Teams in the tankard were Bob Armstrong skip, Doug Ptolemy vice, Al McDonald second and Allen Taylor lead. The second team consisted of John McCutcheon skip, Bob Gould vice, Ken Armstrong second and Harry McPhail lead.

These next couple of days will be the last chance to oish the rough edges off our acts for this Friday's "Gong Show" at the Milton Curling Club. Acts are still being accepted for the first annual. See you all at the Gong Show.

BRUSHLESS PTO ALTERNATOR

PERHAPS you have experienced power failure at sometime. If so, we don't have to remind you that the losses can be heavy. Practically everything stops when power is cut off - no lights, water, heat, coolers, freezers, refrigerators, power tools, feeders, milkers, radio and TV. In a moment's time a tornado, hurricane, blizzard, flood or lightning could plunge your whole operation into costly confusion - unless you have auxiliary power. Fasten this unit on a two-wheel trailer, attach the power take-off on your tractor and you are ready for any job and place, whether there is power or not.
