

A CARIBBEAN CRUISE followed the candle-lit wedding Feb. 17 of Dale Bridgen of Georgetown and Cindy Barker of Milton. The couple have taken up residence in Georgetown.

Wedding

Brigden — Barker

Cindy Barker was married to Dale Bridgen Feb. 17 in a candle-lit double-ring ceremony at Knox Presbyterian Church, Milton. Rev. Trevor Lewis officiated.

The bride, an RNA at Georgetown Hospital, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barker of Milton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brigden of Georgetown. He is a machinist at Mould-Master in Georgetown. The groom attended Milton High School and the bride went to Milton and White Oaks schools.

The bride's brother, Terry Barker of Oakville, gave her away. Allen Redman was organist.

The matron of honor was Lynda Douglas of Woodstock, the bride's sister. Fred Bailey of Georgetown, a friend of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Ross Bridgen of Georgetown, the groom's brother, and Howie Wrigglesworth of Milton a friend.

Eighty guests attended the evening dance and buffet at the Bayrischer-Hof in Milton. The disc jockey was from Domino Ltd. in Burlington.

A close friend of the bride, Mrs. Gertie Wilson, designed and decorated the wedding cake. Photos were taken by Bernie Douglas of Woodstock.

Attending the reception were the groom's grandparents from Hornby and Peterborough. Other out-of-town guests came from Woodstock, Ottawa, Toronto, Orillia, Gravenhurst, Kirkland Lake, Sudbury, Brantford and Bramalea.

The bride was entertained at miscellaneous showers given by her sister Jackie Shea of Milton, the groom's sister Leanne Bridgen and neighbor Mrs. Fred Bailey of Georgetown, and neighbors at the home of Mrs. Mac Elliot of Elmwood Cres., Milton.

The couple spent their honeymoon on a Caribbean cruise. They have taken up residence at R.R. 5, Georgetown.

Armchair tour of Hawaii given

No expense! No inconvenience! No transportation to worry about! No reservations to speak for! And yet it was a grand and glorious trip to Hawaii via the medium of excellent pictures with a most delightful and refreshing commentary furnished by Mrs. George Atkins of Bronte, at a recent meeting of the Anglican Church Women of St. Luke's Church in Palermo.

The armchair travellers enjoyed the captivating beauty of the Hawaiian islands, and, through the eagle eyes of Mrs. Atkins, saw and visited many of the interesting places that both the speaker and her husband had enjoyed. To commence the travelogue Mrs. Atkins showed a map of the eight Hawaiian islands and pointed out the two, Oahu and Maui, on which their explorations had been concentrated. The usual tourist attractions had been visited and Pearl Harbour was viewed with a deep sense of emotion, particularly amongst the American tourists.

Mrs. Atkins told of enjoying the boat trip from Oahu to Maui and of seeing vessels from every part of the world in the harbors, including a four-masted Chinese schooner. The speaker said that tourism was the number one industry but that Hawaii also boasted an excellent educational system with an almost total lack of racial tension in spite of the many cultures represented on the islands. Mrs. Atkins told of visiting many out-of-the-way spots and of seeing a cairn erected to the honor of Capt. George Vancouver, who had been credited with bringing hogs to the islands.

Side trips also took the Atkins to see huge crops of pineapples which, with sugar cane, are the second major industry. Special pictures and information were given to the "travellers" about the 38 mile winding drive to the top of the 10,000 foot crater, Haleakala, which is the world's largest crater. Beautiful scenes with majestic royal palms transported the stay-at-home tourists from the snow of Ontario to the dream-setting of the islands and all present accorded the "tour guide" grateful thanks for providing such a glorious and inexpensive holiday.

The president, Mrs. R. Cripps, presided over the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. G. Pelletterio, and Mrs. M. Flint gave the scripture reading during the devotional period. Excellent reports were furnished by the various officers and knitted goods were handed in for the Princess Margaret Hospital in Toronto. Mrs. E. Inglehart reported that a coffee percolator had been procured for the parish hall kitchen, and the president presented patterns and styles for new choir gowns. Members were reminded of the annual ACW meeting on April 19 at Christ's Church Cathedral, and various other items of business were discussed prior to the closing prayers.

The Rector, the Rev. W. S. Noble, was a welcome visitor to the meeting, and words of thanks were voiced to Mrs. Atkins and to the hostess, by Mrs. E. Inglehart. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Jamieson on April 5 with Mrs. Harry Wilson, a former member of the group, telling of her recent trip to Sweden.

NINETY this month, Cassie Gallinger was feted at a birthday party given by relatives Sunday. A hard worker all her life, Mrs. Gallinger remains in fairly good health.

Life of hard work helps her reach 90

If there's a secret to being in good health at 90, it's hard work, said Bill Gallinger of his mother Cassie Gallinger. Mrs. Gallinger was 90 March 7.

Mrs. Gallinger, who moved to Milton in 1968, has six sons and one daughter, 14 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Philosobits

By Edith Sharpe

Everybody is accomplishing something all the time, even if it is making life miserable for others and yourself. But why waste time in doing such useless things? Why not accomplish something good in your life? Yes, why not?

Do you realize that today is the tomorrow you spoke of yesterday?

You are as old or young as you think you are.

Sorority exercises

The March 1 meeting of Theta Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held at the home of Diane Jones with Marg Burgess presiding. Jan Ashby and Janet Smith presented an interesting program on diet and exercise, with all members participating in a yoga session. Congratulations and a presentation from Theta Tau were given to Marg Wallace who will be married this month.

March proves to be a busy month locally for members, with plans to attend a concert at Massey Hall on March 22. A Green Plant Party for members will be held at the home of Sharon Hicks on March 29, and members and their husbands are looking forward to the tour of Andres Wines on March 31.

Two Hundred and Eighty-Eighth In A Series
A Mark of Progress in Milton

Milton Fire Department last week moved into its new home, the new steel fire hall building on Steeles Avenue. The building was purchased by Milton Council last year and erected by Transway Steel Buildings, at an approximate cost of $400,000. Congratulations to the firefighters on their new quarters.

Family pictures show lake fishing history

Members of Milton Historical Society were treated to a trip to Ontario's past when Lorne Joyce showed slides of the early days of commercial fishing.

The Joyces of Bronte were commercial fishermen in the Duck Islands, located in Lake Ontario south of Kingston. During the first quarter of this century their boats left Bronte early in March and didn't return until Christmas.

Mr. Joyce's aunt, Mrs. Ida Belyea, supplied many of the photos from her family album. Mrs. Belyea and her daughter Anna Hogg, both of Oakville, attended the meeting Thursday night in Milton Library.

From 1915 to 1922 Mrs. Belyea spent the summers on the Duck Islands with her husband.

In contrast to the mellow sepia-toned photographs showing the clean clear beaches of yesteryear a photo taken today shows the same area overrun with algae. Mr. Joyce said the algae were the result of phosphate pollution of the lake.

Mr. Joyce encouraged the historical society to scout the family albums of local residents for photos of historical interest to Milton. He gave a demonstration of the technique for taking slides of old pictures.

Hornby volunteers help in WI building

The Hornby Women's Institute meeting was held March 8 at the home of Mrs. L. Sampson with nine members present. The president, Mrs. C. Patterson, opened the meeting and minutes were read by Mrs. Ron Macpherson.

Correspondence consisted of a letter from Mrs. Andrews of Campbellville concerning the Institute building at Kelso, which will be open Monday to Friday during July and August. Two ladies from each branch are asked to act as hostesses for three days during this time.

An evening forum on nutritional needs for the elderly is a possibility for the fall. Mrs. H. O'Connor and Mrs. C. Patterson attended a meeting March 6 concerning a history of Halton by Mrs. Marchington. Discussion on possible publication of the history will be held at the district directors meeting. The family law reform bill was also discussed.

Members selected for the nominating committee are Mrs. J. McCarron, Mrs. H. O'Connor and Mrs. L. Sampson.

Mrs. M. J. Brown, convener of Canadian Industries, had as roll call an unusual industry of Halton. Motto was read by Mrs. M. Brown.

Bishop at Palermo confirms candidates

The Rt. Rev. John C. Bothwell, Bishop of the Diocese of Niagara, performed the sacred rite of Confirmation at St. Luke's Church in Palermo on Sunday, March 5. Community friends, Godparents and relatives of the candidates filled the church and the candidates were presented by the Rector, the Rev. W.S. Noble, and included Karen Broughton, Nancy Jamieson, Maria Moore, Kimberley White and Michael Norton. Also presented was Katherine Whaley of St. Stephen's Church, Hornby, on behalf of the Rector of the parish, the Rev. Duncan McLean.

Bishop Bothwell, in his address to the candidates and congregation, spoke of the sad life of Hosea who, with his wife Gomer, had to learn many things, amongst them three things that could vitally concern us in today's world—that each man and woman had to make his or her personal choice; that no matter what kind of choice was made God still loved those concerned because no choice would take anyone beyond the love and concern of God, and that if we can learn to act like mature adults it is never too late for wonderful things to happen.

"The future is open to us and we become what our choice makes us," said

Lunch was provided by Mrs. G. Robinson and Mrs. C. Patterson. The hostess, who was recently discharged from hospital, was presented with a houseplant.

Bishop Bothwell. The Bishop also pointed out that Confirmation was just the beginning of a constant stream of promises throughout each individual's life and that, though there would be joy in the Christian life, there would be sadness too, but that through both joy and sorrow, God's spirit would always be close.

Col. John P. Page acted as Bishop's Chaplain, and the Wardens George Pelletterio and William Moore, conducted the Bishop into the Church. The choir was under the direction of Paul Young, organist and choir leader, and memorial flowers on the Holy Table were given in memory of Cecil Tuck by his family, and in memory of Gordon Rowe by his daughter.

Russell Oates and John Jamieson assisted the Rector with preparations before and after the service. Following the service, a time of happy and sincere fellowship was enjoyed in the parish hall with the Anglican Church Women serving refreshments. During this get-together the wardens presented gifts to the confirmation candidates from the church, and all present had an opportunity to chat with both Bishop and Mrs. Bothwell, and of extending good wishes and words of blessing to the newly-confirmed.
