

BILL JONES, "Mr. Sound Man" at Steam-Era shows since the first reunion 18 years ago, adjusts the volume on the platform PA system. He recently celebrated his 50th anniversary in the sound business and says he has enjoyed his half a century of work at garden parties, shows and fairs. Bill lives in Middleport and he built his first crystal radio in 1927.

SPIKE PITCHER Jamie McBay of Caledonia flings a sheaf into the separator during a Steam-Era threshing contest. His team, from the Ontario Steam and Antique Preservers Club, won the contest over a team from Caledonia.

—Sheridan College is holding registrations for classes at Brampton campus Sept. 6 and 7 and Oakville campus Sept. 5 to 8. Classes begin Sept. 11.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS had a hey-day at Steam Era, there were two booths dispensing china, T-shirts, buttons, postcards and assorted souvenirs of the show.

ARLAND COSTLEY, a Tioga County show member from Wellsboro, Pennsylvania, came to his eighth Steam-Era show and put his 1908 Rumsey gas engine on display for the first time. He's one of several American friends of the Steam-Era who come to the local show every year.
