Truths of life theme of retreat

Our Lady of Victory Church was the setting for the Catholic Women's League's annual twilight retreat and pot luck supper on Oct. 18. Father Harold Bedford, S.J. was the spiritual director for the retreat. The timetable was arranged to suit the convenience of the ladies as much as possible. The first conference was scheduled for 5.30 in the church and the pot luck dinner at 6. The second conference followed at 7, which was given downstairs in the basement hall and was followed by a short question period. The retreat was closed by mass in the church.

In the first conference Fr. Bedford spoke on some of the great fundamental truths of life, using as his ground work the spiritual exercises of St. Ignatius Loyola. He discussed the origin, purpose and destiny of man. Man is not here simply for pleasures and riches but to serve God faithfully. To save his immortal soul is important for everyone to see that he or she must put first things first, he said.

In his second conference Fr. Bedford discussed several problems that face today. He deplored a lack of prayer so evident in our lives. He touched also on the importance of the work done by the CWL and stated that nothing should be allowed to impede its work. The problems of teenagers were also discussed. And finally in an age when so many homes are threatened with disruption, he made a strong appeal for peace and tranquility in the family.
