

W. I. Dick Winterfest brings out Wildcats

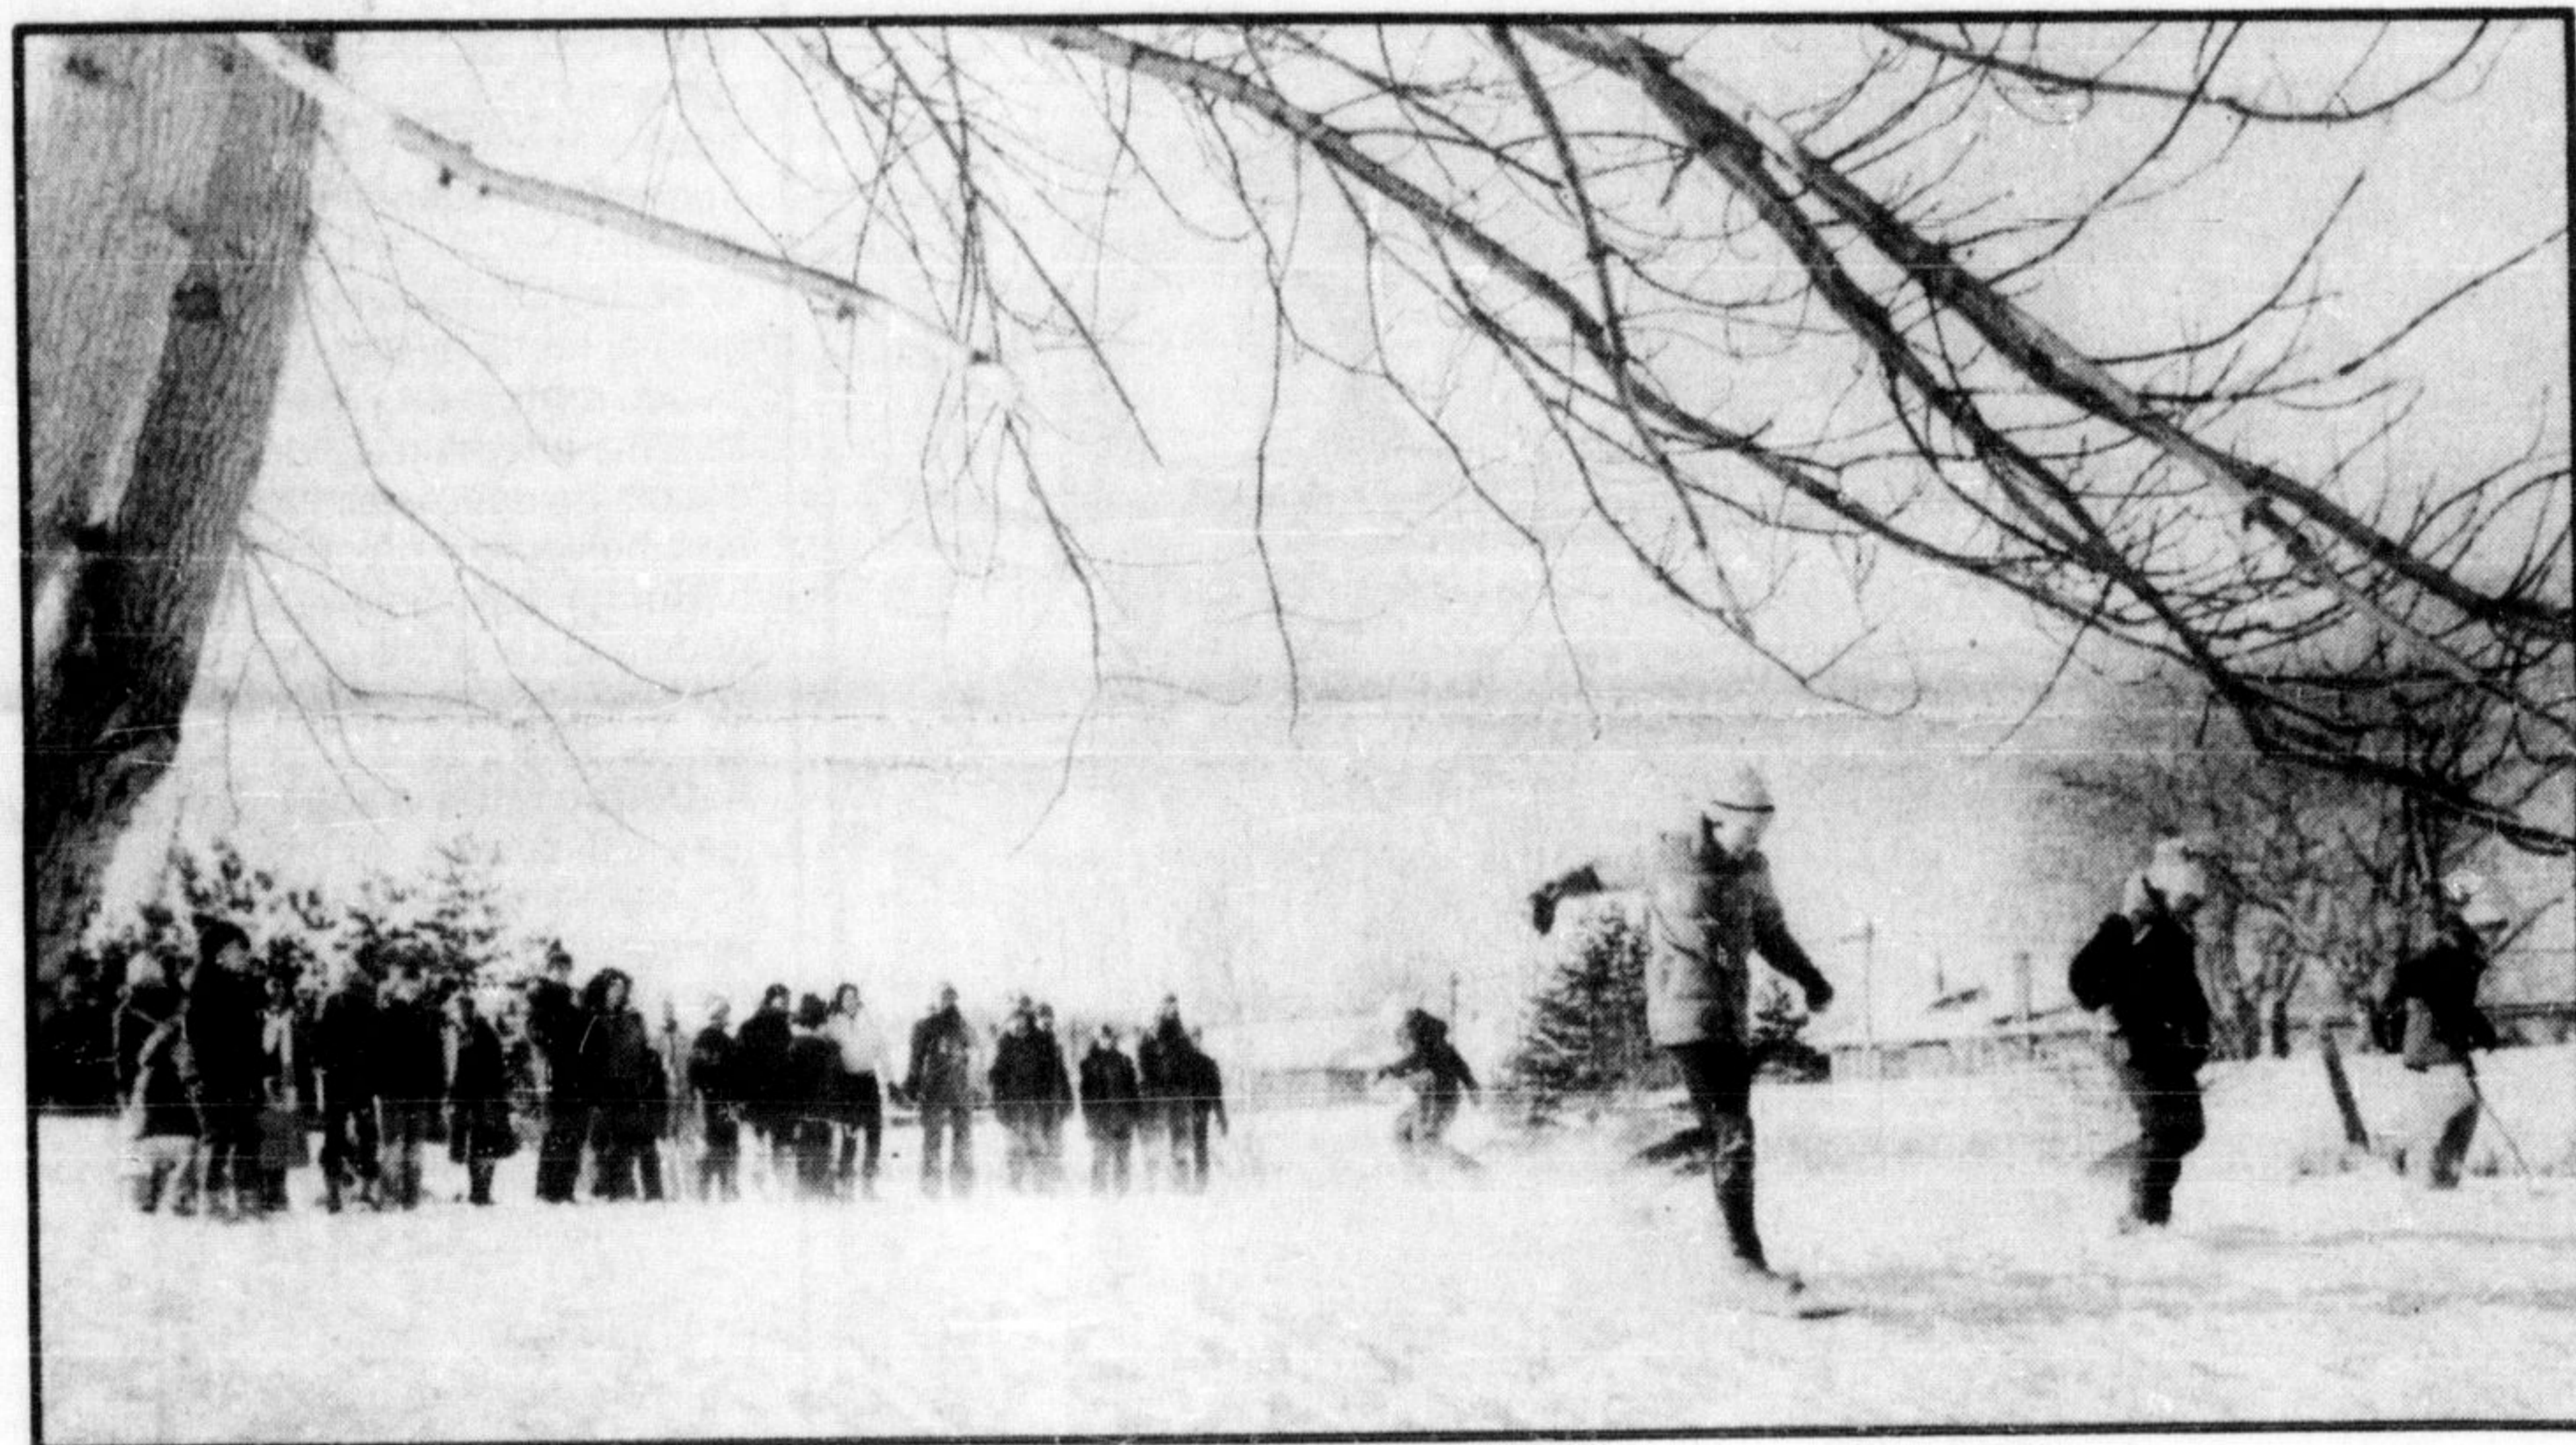

GETTING PSYCHED UP for the pie eating contest is grade seven student Debbie Johnstone. Deep breaths and a careful eating plan are essential in devouring a pie in record time.

GETTING INTO IT, the cream pie, and wearing half of what was to be eaten, Miss Johnstone competed with other grade seven pupils Wednesday afternoon at Dick school.

STRUGGLING WITH A T-SHIRT, grade eight student Kevin Hughes attempts to get the necessary clothing on during a relay at the W.I. Dick Winterfest. Students took part in snowshoe relay races, chariot races using toboggans, field hockey in the snow and soccer. Outdoor activities were highlighted on Thursday

SNOWSHOE RELAYS posed a few problems for those who didn't have the walking gear attached to their feet properly.

KING AND QUEEN of the carnival are Leanne Carter and Mike Barstow. They were named at the dance Wednesday afternoon at the school.

Champion photos by Peter McCusker

THE BLUE HOUSE COMES IN dragging teacher Fred Ross on the toboggan. The chariot race took the entire school yard and almost every pupil and student at the school. Kelly Austin, Bruce McDonald, Brad Way, Ronnie Kollman, Laurie Kent and John Roberts led the blue house team.