

IT WAS AN EVENING to remember for Mrs. Mary Fay at Halton Centennial Manor. She was presented with a red rose during a concert Wednesday by the Tempest Youth Choir of Oakville. Performing the honors was Shauna Moore of Oakville. The 50-member choir presented a one-hour concert of popular melodies and Christmas songs.

Marchmont, McNabb honored for 4-H work

By Nancy Schmidt, Home Economist
The Achievement Program for the fall 4-H Homemaking Club project "Needlepoint" was held Nov. 21 at Drury School, Milton. Eleven clubs involving 86 members completed this project.
During the program special 4-H Homemaking Club Awards were presented. Members receiving County Honors for the completion of six projects included Patricia Adams, Kathy Galbraith and Lorie LeRiche of Hornby North; Lisa Morton, Susan Rayner and Judy Speck of Hornby South; Tara Bludd and Cherie Kirby of Georgetown; Lynda Wingfield, Ashgrove; Judy Bell, Scotch Block; Lenore Chisholm, Campbellville; and Sherry Kirton, Dublin North.
Five members completed their 12th project to receive their Provincial Honors. They were Madeline Austen and Betsy Howard of Campbellville; Elaine Cunningham and Barbara Treviranus of Ashgrove; and Anna Edwards, Georgetown.
Betty Marchmont of Hornby North was presented with her Advanced Honors Certificate and silver pie server for her completion of 18 projects.

Mrs. John McNabb, President of Halton District Women's Institute brought greetings and presented the Dr. Ethel Chapman Scholarship to Marilyn McNabb of Ashgrove. Marilyn, a former 4-H member is in her first year Agricultural Economics at the University of Guelph.

beginning in January will be "Food for Friends". If you would like information regarding joining a 4-H Club or forming a new club in your community, please contact Mrs. Nancy Schmidt, Home Economist, Wilson Drive, Milton.
