with ARN COULSON

From the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, an article edited by Ron Reid, comes some interesting news that you probably have all heard about by now. Hunters and fishermen at least should be aware of the much needed revision to Ontario trespass legislation with two new laws that came into effect in September.

Recognizing that public access to private land is a delicate and often emotional subject, as evidenced by the recent difficulties of the Bruce Trail, so the petty trespass act has had some changes made.

First, it will be easier for a landowner to enforce his rights. Tougher fines, up to $1000, along with the ability to recover the cost of associated damages and court expenses, and the authority for police to arrest trespassers even after they leave the premises, will all help to curb irresponsible trespassing.

Secondly, the law is clarified to assure owners that they will not be responsible for the safety of users of their property, unless they are receiving payment... This also means that hikers must take the environment as they find it, and assume whatever risks are present as their own responsibility.

Finally, the new law standardizes the posting of property, so that red markings mean no entry, and yellow markers mean some activities are permitted. Owners can also use symbols as fishing, snowmobiling, or hunting are specifically allowed or prohibited, without affecting other uses.

All this will not solve the trespass problems overnight—there will always be a few bad apples in the barrel who abuse the right and the property of others.

The whole story is, fellows, we have to pull up our socks and, as we have always preached, the motto of our club is: "Get Permission."

News of hunter success is still coming in. John Smith, one of the clubs most ardent sportsmen, travelled to Quebec this year and returned with a fine bull moose. He was on a three-day hunt with Al Lamb who bagged himself a fine buck deer.

Do not forget, fellows, your club dues must be paid by Nov. 30.

Mark French fires winner for Medics

Milton Minor Atom Docs & Dents outrivalled Orangeville Sunday afternoon with a 5-4 win. Team members worked hard to outdo their opponents, who in their last encounter had outshot Milton 35-12 and won 4-2.

Despite the fact that two top Milton skaters were feeling under the weather Sunday, they both laced up for the game. Jason Blanchard's poor health forced him to leave early in the game but Mark French held on throughout the contest, skating fewer shifts than usual and came up with the winning goal in the final period.

The team's strength came through the defensive efforts of Scott and Todd McLeod, Kevin Moffat and Mike Stephens.

The game was scoreless until the final three minutes of the first period when Jeff Maher scored in front of the net, assisted by Kyle Hassel-

Milton took on a two point lead in the second period over the scoreless Orangeville team with Shawn Healey scoring on a stick side pass from Jeff Maher.

Early in the third period Maher directed the puck from the blue line to Shawn Healey who proceeded to deke the Orangeville defence and their goalie to up Milton's score to three goals.

As they headed into the third period Orangeville turned on the guns, coming up with three consecutive goals to tie the score. Shawn Healey came back for Milton with a shot from the right of the net to pull Milton into a lead.

With a minute and a half remaining in the game Orangeville brought the score back to a tie.

It was Mark French who fired the deciding goal for Milton with only one minute of play left, with an assist by Shawn Healey from the corner.

Novices still hot

Continuing their current win streak and stretching it to five games, Milton Novice Sockets edged Chinguacousy 3-2 Sunday.

A strong third period, both offensively and defensively, cinched the win. A great deal of hustle by Matthew Newby and David Wizarzyk helped overcome strong Chinguacousy attacks.

Sockets' goals were shared by James Green, Ed Dillon and Darren Beals, with assists to Beals, Robbie DelPapa and Matthew Newby.

Currie Plumbers rack up victory over Georgetown

Currie Plumbing's intermediate girls continued their winning ways as Milton racked up a 7-1 victory over Georgetown Sunday night.

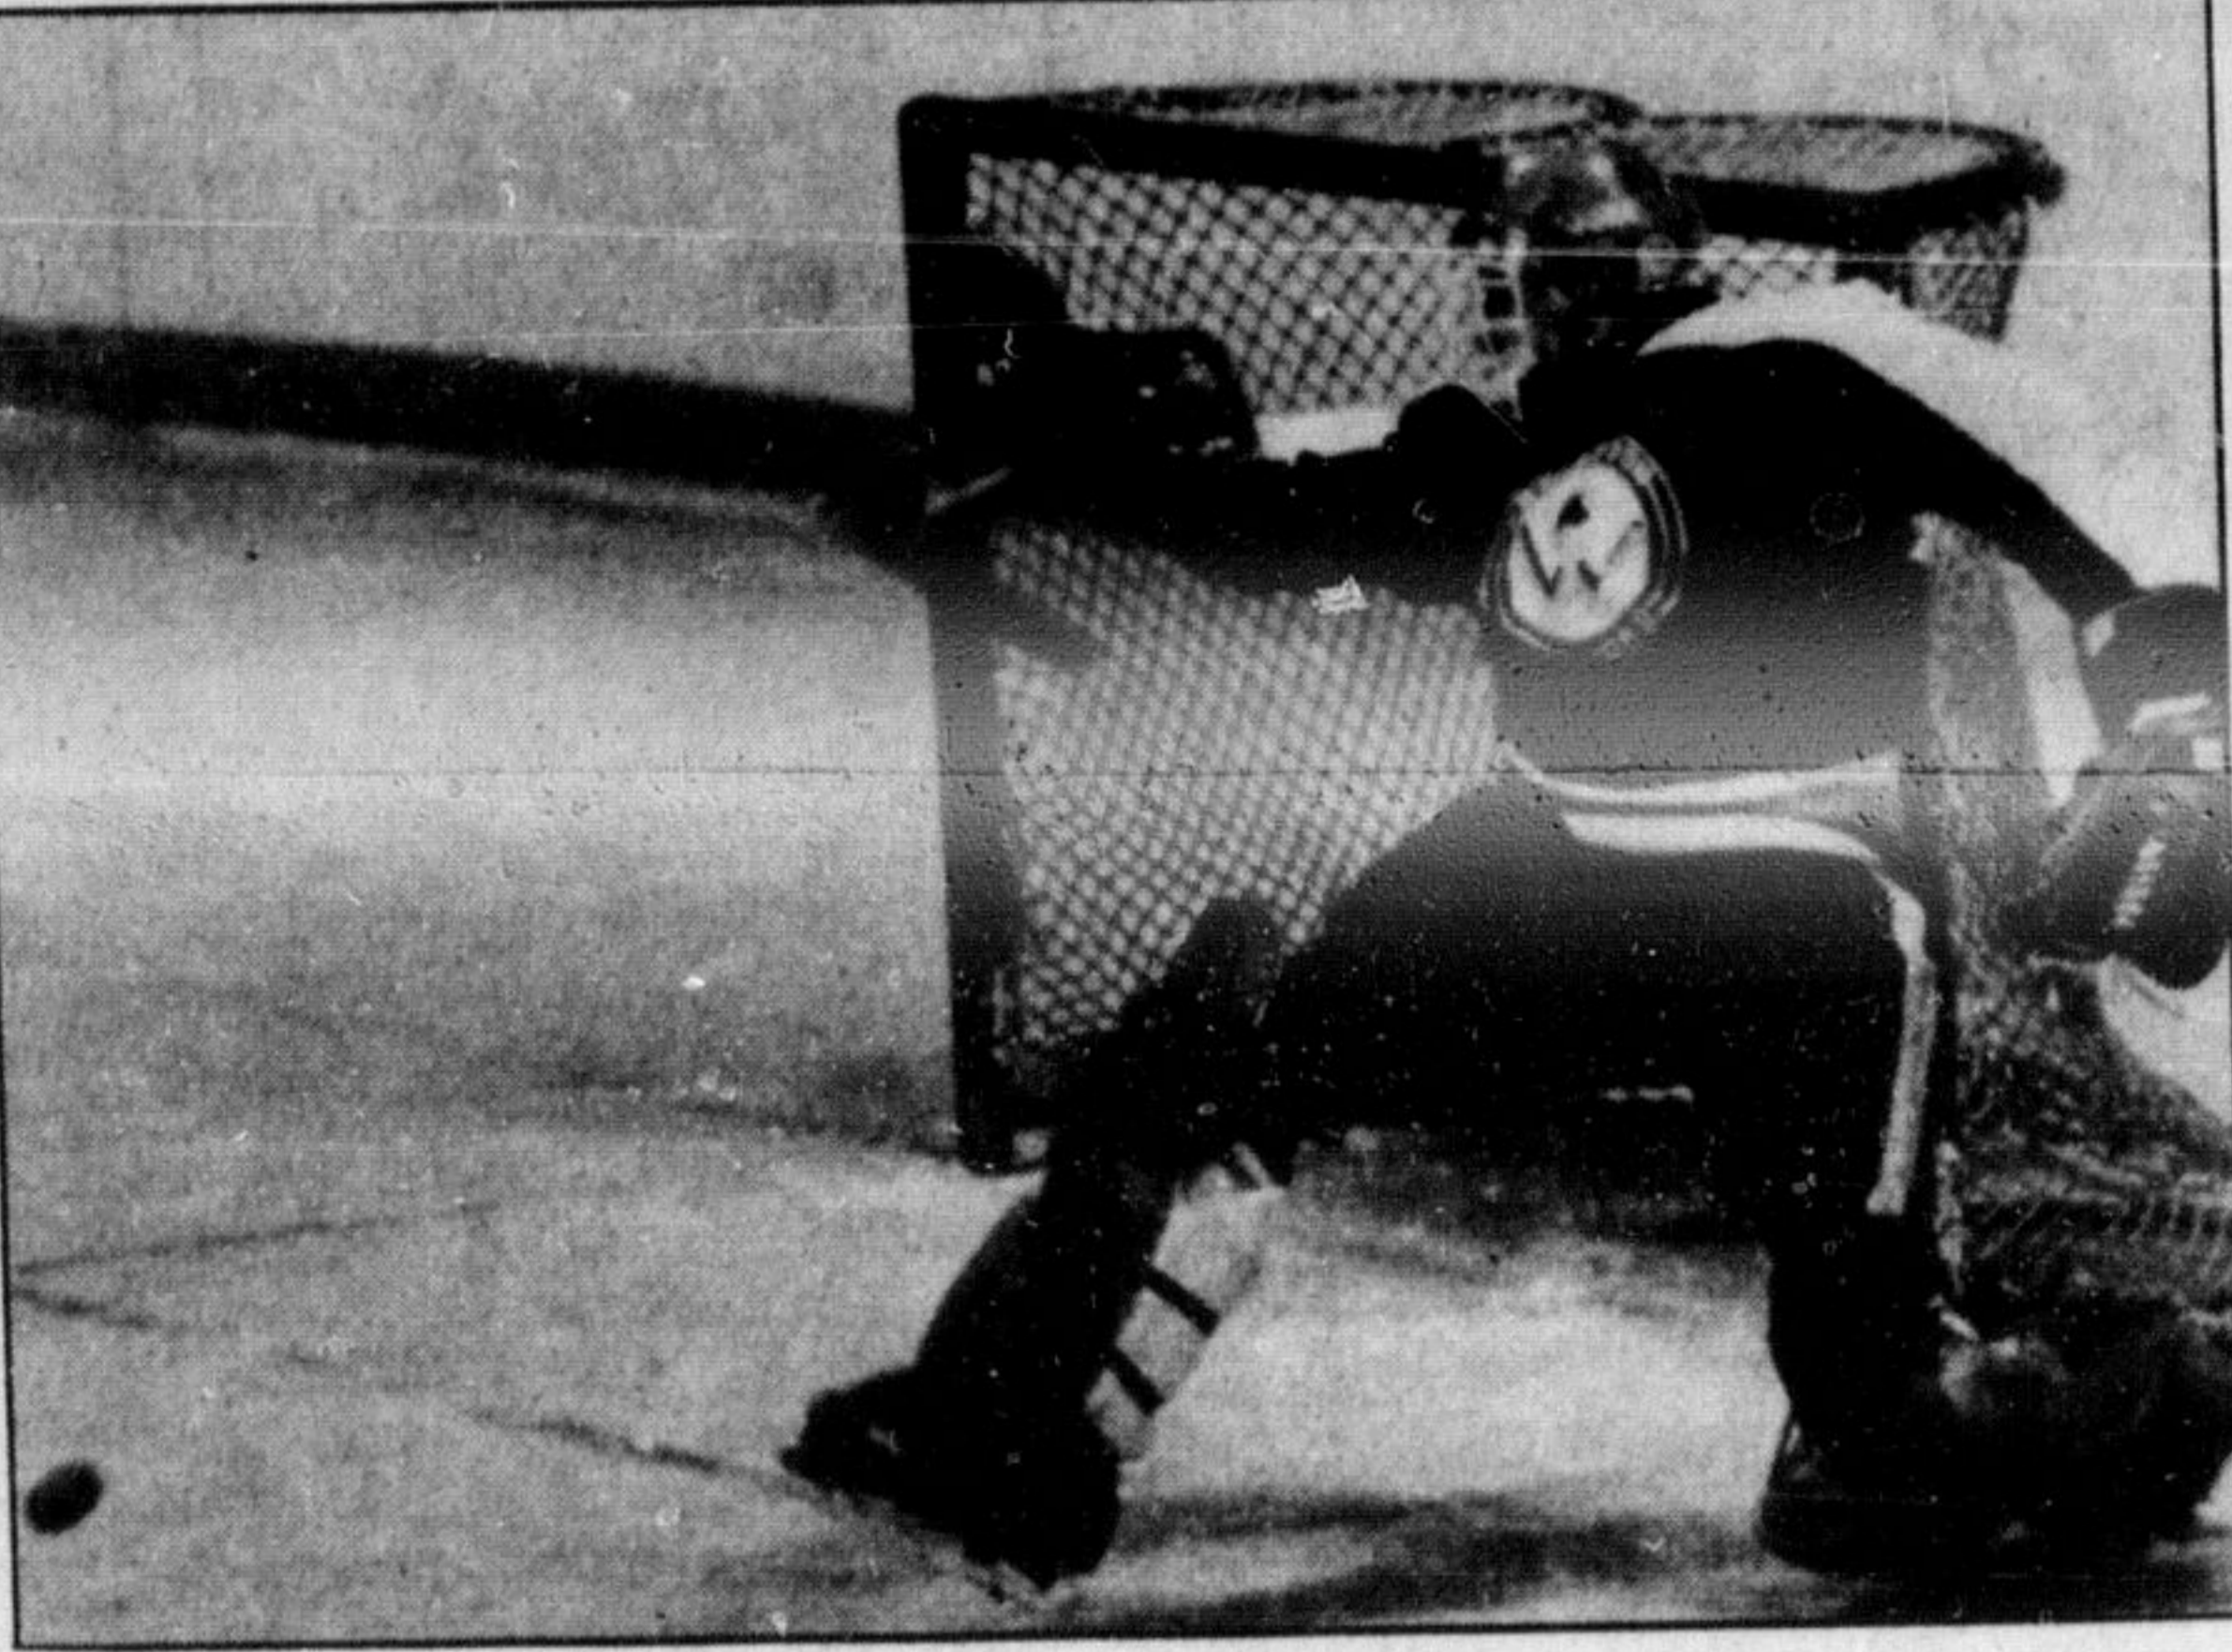

The game at Memorial Arena unfolded slowly as each team was struggling until halfway through the first period when Milton opened the scoring.

Milton's speedy winger Lisa Simpson scored after being sent into the clear by Tracy Horne. Simpson was to account for six points by evening's end on two goals and four assists.

Time and again during the second period, Milton's defence of Auger, Hasselfeldt, Rivers and Reynolds turned Georgetown rushes into quick breaks as they headlined the puck, catching Georgetown forwards deep in the Milton end. Before the period was six minutes old, Milton's shift centre Tracy Horne had scored three times, with assists going to teammates Harris and

Great in goal

Great in goal. Brampton's netminder was kicking them out with some regularity Friday, when the Flyers hosted another winning effort at Memorial Arena. Milton didn't score on this one.

Welders: It's hard to win

Milton Welding continues to have difficulty finding the goal scoring range in White Oaks Hockey League action. The inability to finish off any of their opportunities, together with a propensity to surrender soft goals, has kept the Welders out of the win column for the season.

In Sunday's WOHL action, Welders came up on the short end of a 5-1 score in their game with league leading Russell's Towing. The explosive defending champions scored three first period goals to dig a hole too deep for the Milton club to climb out of. Dave Beattie tipped a Glen Austin shot from the deep slot past a sprawling Keith Mason.

On Russell's next shot, the versatile Glen Austin intercepted a rink-wide Welders pass at centre ice and drove a long blast past an unprepared Mason.

Pressing hard throughout the third period, Welders were unable to connect on their many scoring opportunities. Enjoying a two man advantage Milton twice hit goal posts and missed open nets. It wasn't until only four minutes remained that Milton was able to spoil Dalby's shutout bid. Rod Gooding stole the puck off a Russell defenseman and fed it off to Rick O'Donnell on the left wing. Taking a return pass, Gooding was able to direct a shot to the lower left hand corner.

In other WOHL action, Attitudes of Oakville scored a narrow 4-3 decision over Schroeder Construction. Dave Hamacher slammed a Dave Heipel pass out into the Schroeder net with five minutes remaining and then Attitudes hung on to take their victory. Dave Heipel led Attitudes with two goals and an assist.

Peaks Industrial continue to show steady improvement as they defeated Balfour Construction 7-5. Their victory was accomplished with a strong third period performance where they outscored Balfour four goals to two with Kent Rennie and Mike Holmes being the chief engineers of the drive.
