

A fun-filled Christmas day

I was playing with my friends on Christmas day. We were tobogganing down the big hill by the creek. We were full of the Christmas spirit. But soon we got tired of tobogganing and decided to go cross country skiing. We were skiing for an hour when we realized it was time for lunch. I asked all of my friends to come over for lunch. After lunch my mother asked us if we would like to trim the big green tree.

It didn't take very long, but we made ourselves go slower so it would take longer.

After this we went to play outside. We built big, humungous snowmen and snowwomen and big forts. We had lots of snowball fights and contests.

It was five o'clock the time had gone so fast. We all went to our homes for the Christmas supper.

My mother had turned the Christmas lights on, on the tree. When I looked at them they made me think this is the best Christmas I have ever had and I know why. It's because I was with my mother, my brother, my father and friends.

CHRISTMAS BABY

Last year was the Christmas I'll always remember. It started when my mother was having a baby. He was due on Christmas Day but was born early. And when my mother went into hospital... Then a few days later my grandmother came and we had the best Christmas ever!

SEE SANTA

The Christmas I'll always remember was two years ago. My two cousins came for Christmas and their names are April and Linda. They are my best cousins.

On Christmas Eve my cousins and I woke up at 12.00 at night. We were so surprised because we saw Santa Claus for the first time!

One Christmas we'll remember

Last Christmas was special because we had turkey and cake but we also went to Florida for a trip. We went to my grandma's and grandpa's and had turkey, corn and cake.

My grandma and grandpa came from the U.S. and we had cake and cookies. I helped my sister wrap presents last year.

A funny Christmas was when my nana got the presents mixed up. I'll always remember the Christmas when I got scarlet fever. When my Auntie and Uncle came over from England, I was excited that Christmas.

The Christmas I'll always remember was when I opened all the presents under the tree and the tags were all mixed up!

NOT A REAL BEAR

One Christmas morning I got up and I went down the steps. And what did I see? I saw a great big bear but it wasn't a real bear.

LIKE SEPTEMBER

It happened on Christmas 2 full years ago. The worst Christmas ever—we hadn't any snow.

The outside was green, but dinner it was keen. We couldn't play in the snow, cause the grass would still grow.

And on Christmas day, the grass was covered away the ground was pure white, and it glistened in the night.

That was the first Christmas ever that was like September. And that was the Christmas I'll always remember!
