

YBA closes out 2nd year

The second year of Milton's YBA basketball program came to a close Saturday morning when it held its final day of the 1980-81 season.

The three-hour day affair which began at 9 a.m. featured games between Milton's two junior teams, a parents-junior exhibition and two senior games against the Mississauga YBA.

Although Milton didn't win a game against the more competitive and more established Mississauga teams, Milton organizers were pleased with the day.

"I think our kids were a bit frustrated with the competition of the Mississauga players," said Milton YBA co-ordinator Laurie Chapman. "They've had their program longer and have played together."

It marked the conclusion to the second year of YBA in Milton. Altogether, about 33 players are registered with the program which played Saturday mornings at the Drury School.

In its first year, 30 players were registered. The day began with a half-hour group warm-up. The junior teams played a regular game which was followed by the parents-junior game. About half a dozen of the 50 parents who attended played in the game.

The day ended with the senior games against the Mississauga teams.

St. Peter's wins basketball title

St. Peter's School demonstrated Friday that even the mighty fall.

Coming up against a school with more than twice the enrolment, St. Peter's defeated St. John's school of Burlington 18-15 in the championship game of boys basketball for the Halton Region Separate School title.

The title marked quite a turnaround for the small school which two years ago won but one game in 1979. The victory left St. Peter's with a season's mark of 21-3.

The win earned St. Peter's a place in the all-school Halton championship this week in Oakville. St. Peter's first game was last night (Tuesday). A victory will send the team into the finals Thursday.

Against St. John's, the Milton school had to battle against players who were, on average, about six inches taller. However, St. Peter's stalled for the entire game and the strategy paid off.

Breaking a 12-12 halftime tie, St. Peter's held the Burlington school to just three points in the second half to record the win.

St. John's put on a full-court press for the second half, but St. Peter's broke it with much of the credit going to Charlie Naccarato.

In the semi-finals, St. Peter's defeated Canadian Martyrs of Burlington 25-18 with Jimmy Naccarato netting 14 points in the game Thursday. Alan Bester played well gathering rebounds.

Strong skating gives Steelers win over Hawk

Strong skating and a second-period outburst paced Milton Frankel Steelers to a 3-2 victory over Burlington Black Hawks in junior girls playoff hockey action Sunday at Memorial Arena.

Steelers were particularly effective in the first period when a total team effort threw a collar around Burlington's forays into the Milton zone which allowed Milton to escape with a scoreless tie.

Milton turned the game around in the second period with three unanswered goals. The squad was tested in the final frame when Burlington bounced back with a pair of goals to narrow the gap.

Steeler's Laura Koshurba opened the scoring. Alone in the slot, Koshurba rapped home a rebound off a play with Kim Hamilton and Halle Van Wart.

Steelers upped the lead to two goals when Christina Bacon picked up a pass from Dawn Tyas who had circled the net, and popped it home.

The pair of Tyas and Bacon connected once again moments later. Battling for possession, they set up Heather Wilhelm who scored her first goal of the year.

After Burlington closed the gap with a pair of quick third-period tallies, Steelers closed ranks and with good forechecking, steady goalkeeping from Myrna Newman and solid defence held out for the victory.

Steelers go up against Burlington Comets Sunday at 7 p.m. at Memorial Arena to complete the double round-robin playoff series.
