Letter

Carnival deserved much more coverage

Dear Mr. M. Boyle:
Further to our telephone conversation regarding the coverage of the Milton Skating Club Carnival, by The Canadian Champion.
Personally and others I talked with felt it was a hit by the performers on ice and also behind the scenes by the executives, parents, professionals and, yes, some fathers that are not only interested in hockey but also in the sport called figure skating that made it a success. Not to mention all the sponsors that were kind enough to help put our programs together.
What got me annoyed was the way the paper had little to say and show, to the people of Milton.
I feel at least one page of the sports section could have complimented the Figure Skating Club, at the same time letting the town of Milton know we have a figure skating club, not only hockey as a sport for the people. It would also give The Canadian Champion newspaper a chance to prove their abilities to show their best in covering each event.
There should have been pictures showing the mayor presenting medals and trophies, and other honored guests presenting flowers to the executives and the pros. Surely, out of all the juniors, seniors and soloists, there should have been room to print more than one photo.
After all, this special event happens only once every two years.
Your paper covers hockey every week. I enjoy reading about the local games but when they become, as you put it "stupid brawls", and take up five pages in your paper instead of covering a pleasant event that a lot of youngsters and parents wait patiently for any coverage in your weekly issue.
Congratulations to The Canadian Champion newspaper on becoming the champs and receiving awards for 1980.
Yours truly,
B. Disappointed
Milton.

Medics start fast

Shawn Healey fired two late third-period goals to enable Milton Docs & Dents minor atoms a 5-3 victory over Chingacousy in the first game of the Tri-County championship playoff series Sunday afternoon.
Medics had moved into the final series with an exciting win over Streetsville. The series went the full five games with Milton coming out on top by a 4-2 margin in the deciding game Saturday at Memorial Arena.
Milton moved directly into the championship against Chingacousy the next day. The score seasawed throughout the game until Healey's two markers put it out of reach.
The teams exchanged single goals in the first period with Mark French, from a scramble, scoring for Milton.
Medics jumped ahead 3-2 after two periods. Jason Blanchard put Milton temporarily into the lead after taking a pass from Robbie Turner and picked the corner with a well-placed shot. Mike Stephens also assisted.
Ching came right back with a goal before Milton scored before the period was out to take a 3-2 lead into the dressing room. Robbie Mifsud scored the third goal after taking a pass from Healey.
Ching rallied to tie the score with the first goal of the third period. However, Healey caught fire and scored twice on two nice dekes to provide the margin of victory.
Chris Newell played goal and put in a fine game. The series, a best-of-five affair, resumes Thursday night in Chingacousy. The teams will meet again at Memorial Arena Saturday at 4 p.m.
Against Streetsville, Medics dropped a 4-1 overtime decision Friday in Streetsville before rebounding from a two-goal disadvantage for a 4-2 victory Saturday.

Curling Cues

with LARRY MCGREGOR

The club held a mixed open bonspiel over the weekend and acting as less than charitable hosts, two Milton rinks took the top prizes.

Over-all honours went to Brian Smith and his rink of vice Sylvia Hokansson, second Dave Hughes and lead Colleen Wilkinson.

Smith, who is also skip of the rink which won this year's mixed club championship, was neither surprised nor particularly elated over his team's success on this day. As he explains: "No big deal, really. If you practise enough, you're bound to win." We were hoping he might elaborate, but he was heading back out on the ice to throw a few more rocks and to work on his delivery.

We asked Mr. Hughes if he might like to say something, but he was trying the snooze alarm on the new radio he'd just won!

Nipping at Smith's heels were Bob Gould and his team of Hazel Reid and Steve and Nancy Leachman. Gould's group was pleased with the day's results, although somewhat disappointed they had to settle for second place. Leachman, ever conscious of the press, sought your reporter out to offer his assessment: "I looked things over pretty carefully and frankly, I couldn't see much here who should have beaten us today. But what the heck, if the rest of the rink is a little off their form, there's only so much I can do. Guess I should be happy with second place."

When asked to substantiate her husband's statement, wife Nancy hesitated a second before replying: "Well, he got part of it right—there's definitely only so much he can do!"

Finishing third was a somewhat cosmopolitan rink representing some of the geographical high spots of Ontario. Skipping the rink was Larry W. Brown, a sharpshooter who practises his craft at none other than the Chesley Curling Club. You've all heard of Chesley, right? Turn left at Warton—you can't miss it. Nice place to be from!

Playing second was Alex Gilchrist, brought in from Brampton for the day to see how much his constitution could stand at a bunk a shot.

Lead Carolyn Campbell has from Belmont, Ontario. The less said about it the better!

We owe the treat of vic Marlene Gilchrist, a member who for years has been dying to get in to a mixed spiel in Milton. Looks like the ad in the paper worked!

If anybody is concerned a rink from Humber Highland finished fourth.
