FOURTH SECTION

The only thing . . .

. . . we have to fear is fear itself.

— Franklin Delano Roosevelt
March 4, 1933

As Milton Beavers and Cubs and Sam Sherratt Public School and John Roberts School For The Blind students found out, America's 32nd president was right.

Be it mental or physical challenges—such as jiu jitsu or wrestling, the only fear is fear itself—and perhaps the fear of losing.

Bob Kranstz of Milton Jiu Jitsu demonstrated the art recently to a group of Beavers and Cubs and Sam Sherratt Public School and John Roberts School For The Blind students squared off against blind counterparts from the Roberts school in Brantford.

The competition at the wrestling match was keen, but the Beavers lost in all their bouts against children with jiu jitsu training in their age group.

Those who fight and run away live to fight another day.
