

Looking for old residents

Milton's 125th Anniversary committee needs your help in contacting all former residents of town in an effort to get them back for the July 1982 celebration.

Committee chairman Dave Brush is asking all residents of Milton who have addresses of relatives or neighbors who have moved away to submit them to the committee.

The committee will then mail information to them detailing activities surrounding Milton's 125th anniversary.

Names and addresses should be mailed to Dave Brush, chairman, 125th Anniversary Master Committee, Town of Milton, Post Office Box 1005, Milton, Ontario L9T 4B6.

Following is a tentative schedule of events for the 125th Anniversary celebrations. These are subject to change and addition in the weeks to come. This column will appear every week in this slot up to and including the week of the anniversary celebrations.

Saturday June 26—Campbellville Day. Activities and entertainment in Campbellville. Tentatively scheduled are a night at Mohawk Raceway and a dance.

Saturday June 26—Flag Raising and official opening of week of celebrations surrounding 125th Anniversary.

Sunday June 27—Activities and entertainment at Boyne Community Centre. Sunday in the park is the theme of activities tentatively scheduled in Milton.

Monday June 28—A re-enactment of a Milton council meeting of 125 years ago. Following the meeting at Town Hall, a poll tax will be collected. A poll tax is paid by all single males between the ages of 16 and 25 years.

Tuesday June 29—Theatre group entertainment at Thompson Arena. Tentatively scheduled performers include Milton Players.

Wednesday June 30—Activities to come.

Thursday July 1—Canada Day celebrations will be included in the 125th Anniversary program. The Jaycees and other service clubs who have traditionally put together this great day will continue their excellent co-operation. Activities are planned at Martin House, Rotary Park and on the Main St.

Friday July 2—Activities are scheduled for Milton Fair grounds. Milton churches are being urged to participate particularly on this day. Evening entertainment is being planned.

Saturday July 3—Halton Centennial Manor, celebrating its 30th anniversary this year, has planned numerous activities. A parade is planned, as is a beauty contest.

Sunday July 4—A soccer tournament is planned at Milton Heights. Milton Italian-Canadian Club will sponsor the event. Fireworks are also planned and may take place every evening of the week.

Halton Regional Police and Milton fire officials are investigating a fire that badly damaged this 1973 Ford LTD Thursday night. The fire occurred on Court St. N. where the car had been parked near railway tracks. The vehicle was earlier reported stolen.

Volunteer Week

Activities planned to highlight areas of need

Volunteer Week, April 18 to 24, will be much more than a simple token proclamation in Milton with activities planned to promote not only the concept of volunteering but local needs in this area as well.

Lorena Smith, Halton Centennial Manor's volunteer co-ordinator, has organized a comprehensive display in conjunction with the North Halton Volunteer Centre which will involve many local agencies which require volunteer services to operate.

The Manor auditorium at Petit House will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 20 and will feature various agencies and organizations which utilize volunteers. A luncheon will be followed by a lecture by guest speaker Cindy Lebrocq, who has been a volunteer in many capacities for 32 years. Mrs. Smith said the speaker's vast and various experiences make her an interesting person to listen to. She also has an entertaining sense of humor.

Maureen McCallum of the North Halton Volunteer Centre said there are two areas of great need in Milton which she hopes the Manor display will bring to light. Tinkerbell Nursery School for mentally and physically handicapped children requires volunteers to work on a one-to-one basis with the children. Orientation is provided as well as much support from staff and the occupational workshop.

Countryside residential homes for mentally retarded adults require volunteers to take residents into the community. As the residents are being geared toward functioning independently in the community, exposure of life outside their residential setting is necessary.

Tuesday evening at Milton Library a slide presentation, from 7 to 9 p.m., will provide further information about volunteers in this community. The presentation will give those interested in volunteering an idea of the type of work they could become involved in.

During Volunteer Week the halls of Halton Centennial Manor will feature posters created by Grades 6, 7 and 8 W.I. Dick students. The posters, which will be judged for first, second and third prizes, will illustrate the students' impressions of the home for the elderly.

Those involved in the Manor's volunteer and volunteer programs will be recognized for their efforts during Volunteer Week with separate evenings planned for each group.

Those interested in attending the Tuesday luncheon should R.S.V.P. by March 14, (today) by contacting Mrs. Smith at the Manor, 878-4141.

Men still needed

The Milton Players will be holding auditions for three one act plays to be presented in June. Anyone interested in trying out acting is welcome. They will be at the Child's Drive Recreation Centre at 8 p.m. on Thursday April 22 and Saturday April 24.

There is a particular need for men. Experience is not necessary. However, an interest in being "molded" into a character is. Attend also if you wish to work backstage.

If you wish more information please contact Jim Steeves at 878-8553.

The Players are still looking for storage space for their sets and costumes. Again call Jim Steeves if you can help.

Gas up for Easter Seals aid

In an effort to help the Easter Seal campaign this year, Esso stations in Milton are having a "thankful thankful" day this Saturday.

A. & L. Bonin Ltd., 5 Main St. E.; Mario Durante, Highway 25 and G.R. McGee of Milton Esso at 440 Main St. E. will all be participating in this project.

The dealers will donate .01c per litre of gas pumped during the day. The funds will be allocated to the Milton chapter of the Easter Seals campaign.

Employment centre for students to open

Milton's student employment centre will not be open for three more weeks, but local summer employment seekers may register with Canada Manpower until the local office for students begins operation the first week of May.

Mary Engbers, supervisor of both the Milton and Oakville student employment offices said, "I think it is going to be a challenge this year. We're seeing a lot of full-time workers laid off and students are a last priority item."

She suggests the failing economy could work to students' advantage as they will accept a lower wage than someone seeking full-time employment. Small businesses are more likely to hire students as their short work term makes hiring less of a risk.

The student employment supervisor explained the advantage of having students available at short notice and ready to take on casual jobs of five days duration or less.
