The seventh game of Sr. T-Ball playoffs began with excellent defensive infield play by Steve Clarke, Shane Boyce and Scott Dooper all throwing to the sure glove of Kinsmen's first baseman, Chris Hulme.

The third inning became a defensive battle with Maher limiting Kinsmen to one run in the top of the inning. Kinsmen then, in turn held Maher to two runs, with Shane Boyce, the pitcher, catching a line drive, then calmly making a throw to first for a double play.

Chris Hulme started Kinsmen's offensive drive with a home run, followed later by two singles. Scott Dooper scored two doubles and two singles. Javed Mirza ended the game with a home run which complemented his earlier pair of doubles.

Bantam Lions hopes in OBA end in protest

A successful protest has ended the Ontario Baseball Association hopes of Milton Lions Club bantam baseball reps in the semi-final round.

The protest was lodged by Merriton, Milton's opponents, after the second game Sunday in Merriton which Milton won 10-9. The best-of-three series was tied 1-1. Merriton had grabbed the opener 6-5 Saturday at Brian Best Park.

The protest was lodged after Milton coach Jack Thorne re-inserted a player into the line-up to take the place of an injured player. The incident happened in the seventh inning when Milton player Steve May injured his leg and could not continue in the game.

Thorne then replaced May with Gary Bissonette, who had already played and was taken out. Thorne had no more substitutes on the bench. A rule in the Halton County League allows for injured players to be replaced by the first player removed from the starting line-up but no such rule exists in the OBA.

Thorne had little alternative. The game would have been forfeited if just eight players had taken the field.

Milton did well to win the game on the field Sunday at Merriton battling from an 8-4 disadvantage for six runs in the top of the seventh inning to gain the lead.

Dave Langlois and Bill Corradetti paced Milton with a double and a single each while Dan Fargiorgio chipped in with a triple.

Other good hitting was supplied by Dan Langlois and Bruce Cameron with two singles each and Gary Bissonette, Mark Baynton, Sean Davidson and Darren Widdie. Davidson went the distance allowing 10 hits and five walks while striking out seven.

In the opener, Milton's bats were quiet with Paul McCutcheon connecting for two hits and Dave Langlois and Fargiorgio rapping out one hit apiece. Milton's pitching was shared by Dan Langlois and McCutcheon.

Murphy's drawn 1-1

In an exhibition contest, Milton Murphy's Carpentry and Bolton played to a 1-1 draw last Monday at Kinsmen Park.
